MUSSOLINI'S IDEA FINDS DISFAVOR

Liberal Italian Newspapers Call His Statement Upholding Government From Above a Blunder.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Rome, March 30.—Liberal newspapers today criticized Premier Benito Mussolini for his political article saying that men are tired of liberty and long for a stricter regime of discipline. They charge that the article was a tactical blunder "since it is from the sympathy of the great middle class from which the Fascisti, now dominating the government, got their power."

But Premier Mussolini's expressions of opinion caused no surprise. They were a repetition of what he had been saying since the formation of the Fascisti. The article appeared in the magazine "Gerarchia," organ of the Fascisti, and has aroused much discussion.

Premier Mussolini's viewpoint is that new ideals are growing up, especially among thinking men. He calls them "the hierarchy of order and discipline." He believes that people are happier when they realize that there is a strong power above them to guide their destiny.

Premier Mussolini is not alone in the political belief that more discipline is needed to restore order throughout the world. Other chiefs of the Fascisti share the same opinion. Their idea is that a government which derives its strength "from above instead of from popular consent" has greater liberty of action to work for the people's benefit.

"Liberalism is very much alive no matter what may be said about its death," said Corriere della Sera. "It not only survives but is growing stronger in both Europe and America."

The Giornale d'Italia expressed the opinion that liberty is the best ideal for a modern progressive people.

TWO KILLED WHEN BOILER EXPLODES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 30.—Low water in the engine boiler caused an explosion on a Lehigh Valley freight locomotive at Leroy, N. Y., last night, fatal to two men, the engineer and fireman and seriously, perhaps fatally, injuring another.

Harry Masilion, Manchester, N. Y., was buried 300 feet. His body was stripped of clothing by the blast, and his body hit an iron fence post and bent it double, then slid along the ground until it collided with a railing. Charles Schilling of Buffalo, engineer, was killed instantly when he was buried under fourteen tons of engine coal, a protruding hand leading searchers to discovery of his body. An unknown man, a tramp, saying he was from Cleveland, is dying in a hospital in Rochester from injuries. The engine was badly wrecked. The tender and three cars were derailed.

AIR SERVICE AFTER MORE RECORDS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dayton, O., March 30.—The United States army air service will this year go after every aviation record in the world, according to announcement made here today.

The announcement followed the establishing of new speed records by army fliers yesterday, when two pilots eclipsed M. Sadi Lecointe's record of 233.01 miles per hour. Lieut. Lester J. Maitland now holds this record, having made an average of 240 miles per hour flat over the one kilometer course.

Next Monday Maitland, together with Lieut. Russell L. Maughn, who also excelled Lecointe's record, will go out to establish a record for the new three kilometer course which will be established April 1, under the rules of the Federated Aeronautique Internationale. At that time the one kilometer course, over which previous speed records have been made, will be abolished.

Burglar Killed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Grantwood, N. J., March 30.—William Brandt, who escaped from the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., and was wanted in Philadelphia, Jersey City and other places for burglaries, was today shot and killed by the police of Fairview when he was caught robbing a grocery store. Police believe Brandt was responsible for a number of chain store holdups in this section. Recently he jumped a bail bond of $10,000 following his arrest in Jersey City in connection with a payroll robbery.

Two Cases in Court.

There were two cases in police court this morning. John Finkle, who was arrested on a charge of public intoxication, was given a suspended sentence. He was arrested by Officer Hess. The other arrest was made by Officer Kout who placed John Smith, a taxi driver, in custody charging him with violating the taxi ordinance in soliciting fares while standing more than five feet away from his car on Railroad avenue. The hearing was adjourned to April 6.

BOY AND MAN HIT BY AUTOMOBILES

Two Accidents, Neither One Serious, Reported to Police Headquarters This Morning—Boy Named Kiernan and Man Named Carroll Injured.

Ernest A. Kelly reported to police headquarters this morning that while driving his Ford truck out of Mill street into Broadway the rear end of the truck a young boy by the name of Kiernan injuring him slightly. According to Mr. Kelly the lad was running on the sidewalk and ran into the rear end of the truck. Kelly stopped and took the boy to his home on West Union street.

Frederick Ballard of No. 55 Elmendorf street reported that while driving his Overland roadster he struck a man named Carroll. The accident occurred on North Front street, near Washington avenue. He stopped and picking up the injured man rushed him to the Kingston City Hospital where it was found that the injuries sustained were not serious. Carroll lives on Washington avenue. According to Ballard he was driving down Washington avenue when Carroll stepped out from behind a moving trolley car in front of the automobile and was knocked down.

SOVIETS SPARE CIEPLAK'S LIFE

Catholic Prelate's Sentence Commuted to Ten Years' Imprisonment—One Other Clergyman Sentenced to Death.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Moscow, March 30.—The death sentence recently imposed upon Archbishop Cieplak, native Pole, and Roman Catholic prelate, today was commuted to ten years' imprisonment by the Soviet. Official assurances had been given yesterday that the archbishop would not be executed, but it had been expected that he would be deported rather than sent to jail. He and fifteen other Catholic clergymen were accused of agitating against the government. One other clergyman, the Rev. Father Butkiewicz, was sentenced to death, and his sentence is now confirmed, and orders are given to carry it out.

The Soviet executive committee, which annulled the decree of the court, to save the life of Archbishop Cieplak, announced that it is not the policy of the present government to attempt to suppress the Catholic church.

Most of the prelates were arrested at Petrograd on charges that had been pending for many months. Archbishop Cieplak was accused of high treason and with having relations with "the enemy" while Russia was engaged in war with Poland.

The court was supported for its death decree against the two prelates, but it was pointed out that circumstances in the case of Archbishop Cieplak were of an extraordinary nature; consequently his life would be spared.

Both the archbishop and the other clergyman condemned to death, (Father Butkiewicz,) were alleged to have fostered revolution against the Moscow regime.

When they were placed on trial and the public prosecutor asked for the death sentence, the whole world was stirred, and this agitation increased to its climax after the sentence of death was actually imposed. Various governments, including the United States and the Vatican at Rome, sent protests and demanded clemency.

It was a curious circumstance that, despite the tremendous interest aroused throughout the world, Russians paid little attention to the trials. They were considered here to be ordinary cases similar to others that daily fill the courts.

This lack of interest in Russia may have been fostered to some extent by the movement among some of the younger Communists against the Christian faith.

Olean Has $50,000 Blaze.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Olean, N. Y., March 30.—Picking up her baby from its crib and braving flames and smoke, Mrs. Lawrence Coon effected a miraculous escape from death in a disastrous fire that swept an entire neighborhood and leveled an entire row of business places, dwellings and barns in this city before daylight today. Several other persons had narrow escapes. The estimated loss is $50,000.

Woman Jumps To Death.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cleveland, O., March 30.—An unidentified woman aged about 24, jumped from the Rocky River bridge to her death 100 feet below today. Her body, the features mangled beyound recognition, landed on the rocky shore of the river. Two pedestrians who saw the suicide, made a vain attempt to reach her as she climbed the bridge railing.

Makes Heatless Light.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, March 30—Professor Risler, head of the Strasbourg laboratory, has discovered a light without heat, it was learned today. Experiments were conducted upon the basis that a light could be found similar to that of the glow worm. It is understood that an electric current is passed through a glass tube coated with phosphorescence.

SCHOOL MONEYS ARE APPORTIONED

Kingston's Share is $60,402.46 and Rest of County is Allotted $155,082.95, Both Including Retirement Fund Amounts.

The apportionment of school moneys for 1923 in accordance with Chapter 106 of the laws of 1922 has been made by the commissioner of education. The apportionment and division is for the school year ending July 31, 1923, and Ulster county's share which will be divided among the different districts, including the city of Kingston, is $189,108.68.

For the county outside the city of Kingston the total apportionment is $155,082.95, from which is deducted $14,798.44 for the teachers' retirement fund. The amount which has been turned over for distribution among the districts outside the city is $140,284.51.

The apportionment for the city is $60,402.46, from which is deducted $11,578.29 for the teachers' retirement fund. The total amount received for distribution in the city is $48,824.17.

The division of the moneys among the districts when completed will be announced.

R. I. MILLS RAISE WAGES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Providence, R. I., March 30.—Practically every cotton mill in Rhode Island today followed the action taken by other New England manufacturers and announced wage increases of 12½ per cent to their employes. The nine mills of the B. B. & R. Knight Company, in the Pawtucket Valley and the five mills of the Goddard Brothers in the Blackstone Valley, were among those affected.

Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers, who was here today, said he was informed that the Fall River Manufacturers' Association planned to make a similar announcement next Monday.

TURK PRISONERS ARE RETURNED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Athens, March 30.—Two steamships, carrying the first batch of Turkish prisoners to be exchanged, departed from Piraeus for Turkey today. They carried 5,637 officers and men, who had been captured by the Greeks in fighting in Asia Minor.

Constantinople, March 30.—The new Near East peace conference probably will open April 16 and adjourn some time before the end of May.

"Y" TO END YEAR WITHOUT DEFICIT

Needs But 100 More Substantial Subscriptions — Annual Meeting May 14.

The directors of the Y. M. C. A. are anticipating closing the fiscal year of the association without a deficit. This association is in line with the majority of the Y. M. C. A.'s throughout the country in closing its fiscal year April 30. With the payment of all memberships and subscriptions now due and with the amount of 100 more substantial subscriptions, this can be done. The directors realize that the work of the association is worthy of the loyal support of the citizens of Kingston.

The budget for the year 1923-24 will be carefully prepared and it is the plan to make the regular canvass for that year's work some time during the latter part of April. Definite dates will be announced later. By having this canvass at that time the Y. M. C. A. then knows about what it can count on in the way of pledges and the budget will be planned accordingly. The regular estimated receipts, such as memberships and rentals, run comparatively the same each year.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held on Monday evening, May 14, at which time directors will be elected to take the place of those whose offices expire. This gathering is generally well attended and a well known speaker will be present for the occasion.

EASTER WEATHER FAIR BUT COLD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 30.—It will be a chilly Easter.

The United States weather bureau today predicted "unseasonably cold weather" for Sunday in all states east of the Mississippi river, except Florida.

Despite the extreme cold, however, the weather will be "generally fair."

The weather bureau declined to forecast today for states west of the Mississippi.

COAL REGION OBSERVERS HOLIDAY; MINERS IDLE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Pottsville, Pa., March 30.—An unusually complete cessation of anthracite mining took place today in celebration of Good Friday. Not only are 40,000 miners idle, but the big repair shops of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company here also were ordered closed. Many of the mines will not resume work until next Tuesday, Monday being a double holiday—the celebration of the eight hour day and Easter Monday.

FRANCE INVITES GERMAN OFFER

Now Says Ruhr Proposals May Be Made Through Allies Instead of Direct to Paris.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, March 30.—Premier Poincare sent a message to the chamber of Deputies today stating that France will examine any offer made by Germany through the Allies for settlement of the Ruhr problem providing it is "precise, serious and direct."

Heretofore France had maintained the position that any German proposals would have to be made direct from Berlin to Paris.

Premier Poincare's announcement was received with applause. Later the chamber of deputies adjourned until May 8, after voting the appropriations necessary to maintain the military establishment and administration in the Ruhr.

Premier Poincare's message was carefully worded and was received just before adjournment for the Easter holiday. He said that the government had decided to allow Germany to make an offer to France through the Allies, on condition they are "serious written propositions and not an attempt at mediation." He added:

"We will not accept any semi-official or indirect negotiations, but the day the German government recognizes that resistance is destructive to Germany itself, and brings to us or to the Allies serious, precise propositions, we will examine them with loyalty and justice."

There are two sources through which such an offer could be made—Great Britain or Italy.

THUGS GET $4,000, KILLING ONE GUARD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 10.—One man was killed and another wounded during a bold holdup in Long Island City at noon today. The dead man is John Wallace, of the John H. Duncan Contracting Company, of Brooklyn, and the wounded man is Martin Kain, vice president of the concern.

The men were conveying a large sum of money when they were attacked by bandits.

The robbers obtained $4,000.

After shooting Wallace, the robbers threw a handful of pepper into Kain's face, blinding him. Then Kain was knocked down and beaten. The robbers grabbed a bag containing $4,000 payroll money and escaped in an automobile containing four other men.

Wallace had just obtained the money from a bank to pay off 30 men employes on the construction of a warehouse. Kain went with Wallace to act as guard.

JASPAR AND MUSSOLINI HAVE FRIENDLY CONFERENCE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Brussels, March 30.—Foreign Minister Jaspar's conference with Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, regarding the Ruhr, was marked by the utmost cordiality on both sides, it was reported in Belgian political circles today.

Premier Mussolini said his government approved of the attitude of France and Belgium towards the Ruhr, and that it would give complete support to both short of sending troops.

It was definitely stated that Mussolini would not offer his services as mediator in view of France's announcement that intervention at this time is not desired.

Not Through With Mitchell.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 30.—John Kearsley Mitchell, rich Philadelphian and son-in-law of E. T. Stotesbury, partner of J. P. Morgan, will again be questioned by Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora, regarding his friendship with Dorothy King, beautiful young model who was mysteriously killed in her apartment, it was learned at the district attorney's office this afternoon. Nelson Gleath, attorney for Mitchell, called at the district attorney's office to make arrangements for the meeting and to determine the time Mitchell shall come here from Philadelphia.

JUDGE SCHIRICK AND ART RICE TO HAVE CHARGE OF COLONIALS

Former Cornell Star and Widely Known Semi-Professional to Coach Locals Assuring a Fast Team—"Bud" Culloton Signs Up to Twirl for Colonials.

Judge Harry E. Schirick and Arthur Rice, two of the best known baseball players in the Hudson river valley will have charge of the Kingston Colonials this season, and will coach the members of the squad in the art of winning games. This will be good news for the baseball fans of Kingston for it assures them of having one of the fastest teams in this section of the state.

Another item of news that will interest the fans is the signing up of "Bud" Culloton, star twirler of last season. As stated before in The Freeman it was expected that Culloton would again sign. The other two pitchers of the team are Rube Forsythe and Sid Rose. This is the strongest pitching staff the Colonials ever had, and assures the fans some fast games.

It will be remembered that Judge Schirick was the man who organized the Colonials two seasons ago, and it was through his efficient work as head of the locals that they won the semi-professional championship of the Hudson valley for two successive seasons. Judge Schirick is widely known as a baseball man of experience. While at Cornell he was catcher on the college team and rated as one of the best college catchers who ever stepped on the diamond.

Art Rice is a veteran ball player who is known from one end of the river valley to the other. His many years of experience with fast teams will be of the utmost value in helping to round the Colonials into shape.

Judge Schirick stated today that spring practice would be called as soon as weather conditions are favorable. The Colonials expect to open the season on Sunday, April 15, with Red Hook if the Kingston Fair Grounds are in shape to play at that time. Manager Lon Brown last season promised Manager Miller of the Red Hooks to open the season here with his team.

IRREGULARITIES IN HOSPITALIZATION

Disclosed by Senatorial Investigation —"Wild Extravagance" To Be Another Charge—Dentists Said to Have Made Lot of Easy Money.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 30.—Evidence of "wild extravagance" and alleged "irregularities" in the control of hospitalization funds, which may ultimately reach the proportions of a national scandal, has been unearthed by the preliminary senatorial investigation of the United States Veterans' Bureau, International News Service learned officially today.

After touching the surface of the bureau's administration record, the senatorial inquiry is said to have revealed instances of "gross abuses" in the award of contract payments for dental treatment of former soldiers. These contract payments were involved in expenditures running into millions of dollars, it was said.

Other evidence now in the hands of the investigators, is understood to indicate the inquiry ultimately would reveal gross negligence and perhaps even actual dishonesty in the administration of the bureau.

The preliminary probe, which unearthed this evidence, was conducted by Major General John F. O'Ryan, of New York, acting as special counsel to the senate committee. A special report setting forth his findings to date, has been prepared by General O'Ryan for submission to the committee.

As a result of the preliminary revelations, General O'Ryan has taken steps to create special investigating agencies in every state of the union. These state boards will be composed of widely known lawyers who also served in the army during the war. They will be empowered to hear complaints of hospitalization abuses in their own states and to submit recommendations for remedial action to the senate committee.

In order to organize these agencies, General O'Ryan has appealed to the presidents of the Bar Associations of all states for recommendations on their membership. General O'Ryan will name the board members from the names submitted by the bar presidents.

This action was taken to give every state an equal opportunity to be heard on complaints against the management of the Veterans' Bureau. The findings of the state boards later will be submitted to the senate committee.

Evidence of alleged "irregularities" in the control of hospitalization funds was revealed at a recent conference held by General O'Ryan with certain present officials of the bureau. Following this conference, General O'Ryan was quoted as saying that the evidence "gave promise of a national scandal in expenditures for dental treatments. It was revealed that $2,500,000 had been spent by the bureau in the six months preceding June 30, 1922, in caring for the teeth of disabled veterans. Examination of the veterans' records, it was said, subsequently showed that few of the patients had suffered dental defects as a result of war service.

In addition to evidence of unjustified expenditures, it is said the investigation also developed instances where contract dentists were paid for work that was never done and others still were lavishly paid for superficial work. In this one phase of the investigation, further evidence was also unearthed showing "wild extravagance" in the purchase of equipment which was later found unfit for use.

Pending the formation of state boards, General O'Ryan will continue his preliminary inquiry. A meeting of the senate committee comprising Senators Reed of Pennsylvania, Iddle of Nevada, Republicans, and Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts, probably will be called in the near future to consider the evidence unearthed to date. At this session it is expected the committee will take definite action as a result of the evidence revealed by the preliminary investigation.

OPERATION MADE GREEN TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER

So Says Surgeon Who Used Knife on One Gland.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 30.—Colonel Edward H. R. Green, son of the late Hetty Green, "dropped 20 years" by the Steinach "rejuvenation" operation, it was declared today by Henry S. Pascal, New York surgeon who performed the operation. The operation was performed last month and Green left New York recently for a cruise in his houseboat Pioneer in Florida waters.

Green, who is 54 years old, was married in 1917. Since the operation he wrote friends here he "felt better than he had in 15 years."

The operation, described by Dr. Pascal as "very simple," consisted of an incision and the ligature of one of the glands. He remained at a hospital ten days and then returned to his apartment at a hotel.

MAN FOUND DEAD; MURDER SUSPECTED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 30.—Syracuse police were face to face with a possible murder mystery today as the result of the death of Thomas Stack, a roomer at number 201 South West street. Stack was found lifeless in the front hall of the rooming house shortly before midnight. Death was caused by a blow on the head, and police are working on the theory that the man was killed rather than that he plunged down the stairs. Twelve men are held for grilling later this morning.

Don't delay fighting constipation with BRAN that is ALL BRAN!

When constipation flashes its signals-of-sickness into your eyes and cheeks; into your breath, your brain and your appetite, it is absolutely necessary that you head it off! Toxic poisoning stands close by; Bright's disease and other dangerous diseases await their turn!

The remedy that nature offers is the simplest and most effective—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, which is ALL BRAN! And it is ALL BRAN! It is ALL BRAN you need when you start to fight constipation. You can't afford to delay a minute and you can't afford to use half-way measures with foods that contain a percentage of bran! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is not only effective, but because it is delicious. Why—you will like its nut-like flavor, which adds so much to any food with which it is served.

Be certain to eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal. Results will prove astounding. Remember that Kellogg's Bran is nature's own regulator, which operates in nature's way—which is the best way!

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals, or make it up into the best of muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, cookies, macaroons. Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. Let the children eat Kellogg's Bran. It is wonderfully beneficial. It will improve their health just as it will really and truly make-over men and women. The value of Kellogg's Bran cannot be overestimated. Sold universally by grocers.

MAIL MOVEMENT IS BIG EXPENSE

Postal Transportation Costs Government Half Million Daily.

HENDERSON GIVES OUT DATA

Assistant Postmaster General Compiles Summary of Costs and Efforts of Department for Speed and Economy in Mail Movement—Railway Service Is the Largest Unit of the System—Pays Tribute to Loyalty of Men of Service.

It costs the government half a million dollars a day to transport the mails. Assistant Postmaster General Henderson has compiled figures to show the various units. He has just given to postmasters a summary of the costs and of the efforts of the Postoffice department for speed and economy in mail movement in the following statement:

"The railway mail service is by far the largest unit of our mail transport system. It is nationwide in its extent and it is continuous in its operation. It piles up a bill of over $94,000,000 each year with the railroads, and its 20,000 clerks are paid over half that sum in salaries. It has rent rolls and miscellaneous expenses totaling another $1,000,000. Its management is confronted with an ever changing panorama of important details.

Changes With Seasons.

"Train schedules are frequently modified and altered—the volume of mail to be moved changes with the seasons and with varying business conditions. New schemes of distribution are necessary to meet new train schedules. More or less rolling stock is needed to meet an increasing or decreasing flow of mail. Incidents such as the rail strike of the past summer tax the skill and industry of our men to the limit. Late trains frequently throw carefully prepared schedules and schemes temporarily into the waste basket and call for the most of energy and resourcefulness. The lack of serious delay to mail during more than sixty days of crippled mail service last summer is, to my mind, a remarkable tribute to the 20,000 men of the railway mail service. I am proud of their record.

To Keep Mail Moving.

"Any transportation system which is concerned with the movement of important freight, express or mail matter must be so designed and so administered as to take advantage of every possible close connection, increased train speed, etc. In the case of the railway mail service every effort is made to keep the mail in a continuous movement to and its ultimate destination. Every advantage must be taken of the so-called dead time. By dead time I mean the interval between connections at junction points and terminals. An intensive and, I am sure, profitable use of this dead time is now being taken advantage of by the Postoffice department in its 59 railway mail terminals.

"Translated into dollars per year the average postal car costs the department in excess of $300 per square foot, and this only for an average of eight to fifteen hours per day. Space in railway mail terminals costs the department less than 1 per cent of this sum, conclusively proving the economy of intensive terminal working of mail where train schedules will permit.

MUMBLED WORDS HANG MAN

Convicted by Victim Kept Alive by Artificial Respiration.

Mumbled words, all but inarticulate, spoken by a man whose heart had stopped beating, but who was restored temporarily to consciousness by artificial respiration, convicted George Donnelly, hanged at Folsom, Cal., for the murder of Earl Moore, a fellow-convict, according to a story told by Chief Justice Wilbur of the California Supreme court.

Moore, kept alive for several hours, but giving all the appearances of death every time the artificial respiration was suspended, when questioned as to who had attacked him shook his head at every name mentioned by his questioners until asked if the cell tender had stabbed him. Then, according to Justice Wilbur, he made a sound which resembled "Yes." Donnelly was acting cell tender at the time. From this clue the authorities built up their case.

Man Has Well-Developed Horns.

A man with two horns, each a full inch in length, is said to have been discovered in Kochi, Japan. The man, who is seventy-six, can without harm to himself tear the feesuma (sliding partitions in all Japanese houses) and otherwise deport himself in a manner similar to a mountain goat. The horns are reported to have been growing for ten years. The man went to a professor in the Kyushu Imperial university for an investigation.

Geese Provided With "Shoes."

Forty lost industries in Cardiganshire, Wales, one of which was known as "shoeing geese," were referred to in a paper read before the Cardiganshire Antiquarian society at Aberystwyth. The way in which this was done was to drive the geese over tar or pitch, and afterwards over fine sand, and this provided them with shoes. This is still done in Germany where geese are regularly driven to pasture along hard highways.

Chronic Constipation
Relieved Without the Use of Laxatives

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so can not gripe. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication. Try it today.

EASTER OLDEST OF THE FESTIVALS

Easter, commemorating to the Christian believer the Resurrection of the Saviour of mankind, and, to the secular mind, the formal opening of the springtime season, but observed as a festival of joy and feasting by both, is the oldest of all the festivals in the Christian calendar. It is the day which marked the beginning of the preaching of the Gospel of Christ. Easter even antedates Christmas as a fixed event; for, while the day of the Resurrection has been observed from the foundation of the Christian religion, it was not until four centuries later that the natal day of Jesus of Nazareth began to be celebrated.

Not less a fixed event than Easter is Good Friday, commemorative of the day of the Crucifixion and observed on the Friday immediately preceding the Easter festival. Increasing importance has been attached by Christian communities in later to Long, or Good or God's Friday, as it is variously known. It is probably, as the day on which Christ offered up His life for the redemption of the world, the most sacred and solemn of the Christian year. In most of the churches on that day the altars are stripped of all decorations, the cross is draped in black and the hangings are of a similar hue, and the day is given over largely by the devout to prayer and meditation. This note of sacredness and solemnity is reflected even in the affairs of the secular world, many of the states of the union in deference to its deeply religious significance, having made it a legal holiday. The custom of celebrating the day is involved in obscurity, except for the fact that it is the day on which Christ was ma[illegible] the dead, but, in the earliest times every Friday among Christians was [illegible] as a fast day, every Sunday was been a feast day. The connection between the one as marking the day of the Crucifixion and the other as marking the day of the Resurrection is easily traced.

One of the most interesting facts in connection with Easter is that its origin dates back to the old Jewish Feast of the Passover. According to a church historian: "The first Christians being derived from or intimately connected with the Jewish Church, naturally continued to observe the Jewish festivals, though in new spirit, as commemorative of events of which those had been shadows. The Passover, ennobled by the thought of Christ as the true Paschal Lamb, continued to be celebrated, and became the Christian Easter."

Early differences arose as to the precise day on which the Easter festival should be observed. In the Jewish calendar the Passover occurs on a fixed day of the month; while the Christians, from the earliest days, assigned the Easter festival to a fixed day of the week, namely, Sunday, that being the first day of the week and the day, according to Scripture upon which Christ rose from the dead. Astronomical problems of a confusing character were largely responsible for those differences, which continued until the year 325 A. D., when the Council of Nicea decreed that everywhere in Christendom Easter should be celebrated on the same day. But it was not until the adoption of the Gregorian calender in 1582 that this decree secured anything like general acceptance; and even to this day in the churches of Greece and Russia as well as in some of the Oriental congregations where the modern calendar has not been accepted, Easter falls sometimes before and sometimes after the date on which the festival is celebrated in western churches.

According to Barry, one of the historians of the Book of Common Prayer, the name Easter is derived by Bede from Eastre, a Saxon goddess in whose honor the great spring festival was celebrated. "Its old name was Pascha," says Barry, "both in the east and the west; and endless titles of honor and reverence were heaped upon it. The Pasch-egg, the symbol of life out of what seemed dead—the salutation, 'Christ is risen,' of eastern custom—all show how from time immemorial Easter has been the great festival of hope and love."

LEIBHARDT.

Leibhardt, March 29.—Mrs. Norman Quick pleasantly entertained several callers at her home Sunday evening, the Misses Edna, Ethel, Loretta, Erma and Helen Hornbeck, Minnie Brown and Mrs. Leslie E. Lawrence.

James H. Kelder, who has been spending the winter in the south, has returned and will spend his Easter vacation at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Krom, of Tabasco.

Miss Rolla Castle was a guest at the Barnhart home Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. A. Gullickson, who has been spending the winter in North Dakota, has recently returned to her home and farm and her many friends and neighbors all welcome her home.

School will close Friday, March 30, for the Easter vacation of a week.

Chauffeur William J. Brown and Otis Meller have made several trips to town recently.

Wednesday evening was the last preaching service until after conference. All joined in wishing for the return of the pastor, the Rev. W. W. Churchill, for another year.

Mrs. Uriah Quick had the misfortune to sprain her foot quite badly on Sunday.

Miss Ethel Miller spent last Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Henry Krom, at Tabasco.

Special Easter music and singing, also recitations and poems, will be rendered by the Sunday school on Sunday afternoon, April 1, at the M. E. Church.

Mrs. William Hornbeck and her daughter, Miss Grace, and Miss Castle were callers at the home of Mrs. Gullickson Sunday evening.

Mrs. Florence Solcberg and little granddaughter, Miss Josephine, who have been spending the winter in New York, are expected to return to their bungalow the coming week.

Mrs. Alex Brown, who had a bad attack of the grip and cold the past week, is able to go out again.

Harrison Brown has purchased a new Ford car.

Ernest Hornbeck, of Whitfield, who underwent an operation for an abscess in his left side Tuesday, March 20, at Dr. Kemble's Sanatorium at Kingston, is reported to be getting along as favorably as can be expected. His many relatives in Leibhardt all hope for his speedy recovery.

Floyd Brown has been helping Arthur Quick for a few days this week getting out timber.

Arlington D. Brown made a trip to Ellenville Wednesday with his Ford car.

STEAL TRUCK AND $30,000 CARGO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 30—A big motor van loaded with $30,000 worth of men's furnishings, was boldly stolen today in the heart of the busy wholesale district by two men who leaped to the driver's seat and dashed away almost under the eyes of the owners of the truck and clothing

The van had been driven up to the West Nineteenth street entrance of Cohen, Goldman & Company wholesale clothiers, this afternoon The consignment of furnishings had just arrived from the factory in Pennsylvania. The driver and helper of the truck stepped down and went inside the offices to arrange for unloading

While the men were inside two strangers stepped up to the van, leaped into the seat made off amid the shouts of the driver and proprietors who had emerged just in time see the daring theft

PASSAIC MILLS RAISE WAGES OF WORKERS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Passaic N. J, March 30—The industrial council of the Pacific Wool Manufacturers members have granted a general increase in wages to mill workers beginning April 30 Twelve or fourteen thousand employes will be affected

The move follows 12½ per cent increase by New England mills recently, and affects the following mills here Botany Worsted, Forstmann & Huffmann, New Jersey Worsted Printing, Garfield Worsted and the Gera Mills

Council officials refused to name the increase These mills cut wages 17 per cent two years ago

POLES TO FURTHER PROTEST PRIESTS' SENTENCES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Warsaw March 30—Polish officials expressed resentment today when news was received from Moscow that the death sentence of Archbishop Cieplak had been commuted to 10 years' imprisonment in strict isolation and that the death sentence on Father Budkiwiecz had been approved by the central executive committee of the Soviet. Another protest will be made to Moscow and Poland will attempt to enlist the active aid of other countries Both clergymen are Poles

BUILDING COLLAPSES, ONE BELIEVED DEAD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

WOMAN TAKES IODINE; TRIES TO JUMP INTO BAY

Is Prevented, Given Ammonia And May Live.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, March 30—Having previously swallowed four ounces of iodine, Mrs Marie Albrecht Barnes, 20, of Marion, Ohio a waitress threw hundreds of passengers into a near panic aboard the Staten Island ferry boat Brooklyn during the rush hour today when she tried to hurl herself overboard

A deckhand saw Mrs Barnes start to throw herself into the bay and seized her At that time she was in agony from the iodine which she had drunk enroute from the Battery to St George Staten Island, on the ferry boat Manhattan She then caught the Brooklyn back to New York As soon as the boat docked, Captain W F Peabody in charge of the St George precinct rushed the young woman to the Broad Street Hospital

Ammonia had been forced down her throat immediately after she was seized on the boat and this, together with her having taken an overdose may save her life

The Dadaist.

Miss Catherine Wendell of New York, who is to marry Lord Porchester, heir to the earl of Carnarvon is as witty as she is beautiful At a studio tea she said one day

"The new movements in painting—cubism and dadaism and so on—make it difficult for us amateurs to criticize discreetly

"A very modern painter was about to show me a new painting As he took the cloth from off the easel I clasped my hands and said

"'Oh how lovely'"

"'Wait a minute,' said he 'It's up side down'

"Then he turned the painting round and I said

"'Oh, now it's lovelier still!'"

Saving Wild Life

Lovers of woodland life will be heartened to learn that efforts for the conservation of the bison, or buffalo, as we more commonly say in America, have succeeded to the extent that there are 3,000 more of the animals now than two decades ago The fact is of chief significance as showing a way of preventing the extinction of valuable or interesting species of wild life. If the states, with the co-operation of their citizens, will do half as much for the preservation of birds and game as the national government has done for the bison during these last 20 years, a stupid and shameful chapter of our history will be rewritten in happier terms.—Atlanta Journal.

FACTS IN BATTLE ARRAY.

Possibly optimism is a commendable characteristic of the American people. Forever demanding better conditions, their realization is hastened by complaints that present conditions are not good enough. This is a bright contrast to the "let-well-enough-alone" attitude of the senile races of Europe and Asia. Progress is incited by the prod.

The late Champ Clark, when a leader of the Democratic party, was fond of telling a joke on himself which occurred while he was on one of his numerous campaigns for William Jennings Bryan, whose gratitude for all Clark had done for him was rewarded by Bryan's base betrayal of the "houn' dog" statesman at the Democratic convention in Baltimore, 1912. Clark said he had just wound up one of his most masterly perorations somewhere in Kansas, glorifying the millionaire Commoner, and picturing the woe which would befall the land if the Republicans were continued in power, when a gangling, wool-shirted, blue-eyed individual arose in the back of the hall and drawled: "Well, 'scuse me, Champ, we're gettin' 7 cents on the hoof for beef critters." Champ said that telescoped his entire speech.

It is just that sort of argument which the Democrats will encounter in the campaign of 1924, which appears to be starting in 1923. Policies may be torn to tatters; recriminations may be rife; personal and political animosities may be bitter; the censers may swing before false gods; but the clear, blazing facts which will illumine the voter's mind and direct his hand as he writes his candidate's name on the ballot are that the nation is back on a prosperity basis; that the Government is being handled in business-like fashion; that taxes are gradually being lowered; that the country is getting out of debt; that both sides of the ledger of our foreign trade are showing marked increases and satisfactory balances; that we are away from the turmoils and intrigues of the Old World; and that under such conditions it would be the height of folly to put the Republican party out of power and return to the muddle, experimentation, feeble Americanism and hard times which characterized the Democratic regime.

The production rate in basic American industries during February excelled any previous record except for a month in 1917 (a war year), according to a survey of American economic conditions submitted to the International Chamber of Commerce at Rome recently. The Democratic party will have a sour time campaigning against such facts, and the experiences of Champ Clark will be greatly multiplied.

JAP COLONY FOR BRAZIL.

According to report, agreement has been entered into between Brazil and Japan for the colonization in the former of half a million Japanese. It is stated that under the terms of the pact the Japanese government is to pay the cost of immigration—about $8 a head—and the Brazilian government is to take care of the Japanese when they arrive, distributing them in the agricultural regions where they are needed. The agreement is understood to be the result of Japan's necessity of finding an outlet for her excess of population and Brazil's need of cheap labor for the development of her farming industries.

For crowded Japan the arrangement means clear gain. There will be gain also for Brazil industrially, though the ultimate consequences may not prove altogether to her liking. No country can take in an unassimilable foreign group without risks of serious complications to follow in time. The lack of homogeneity in the population of the United States, with its many foreign groups, some of them very aggressive in politics, is well recognized as a continuing basis of disturbance. Although there is said to be danger of a separatist movement, pointing toward a possible conflict of arms, on the part of Brazil's large and compact German and Italian colonies, no doubt the Brazilian government will find the Japanese colony more manageable, at least for years to come, but the addition of a third foreign group, less assimilable than the other two, can hardly be said to strengthen Brazil's prospects of future internal peace.

Germany denies having asked the United States to intervene in the Ruhr trouble. France long ago indicated her desire that the United States keep out. Yet there are some Americans who think we should go over and tell both parties to the controversy what to do and when and how. Fortunately the Harding administration has been sticking to the job of minding its own business—and has been doing that well, as witness the reduction in expenditures, the decrease of a hundred thousand in the number of people on the payrolls, the improvement in hospitalization and rehabilitation for veterans and the improvement in industrial conditions. Harding made his success in life by attending to his own business.

Burroughs Club Nature Notes

By HOUGHTON MIFFLIN CO.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Do rattle snakes lay eggs and hatch their young same as any other snake does?

2. Is there any such snake which, when hit by something, can unjoint itself into parts, and if not fatally hurt, rejoint itself?

3. Humming birds came about my garden this summer, and I should like to make sure of having them next year. What shall I plant?

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. Do people eat cuttlefish? I thought it was something to give canaries?

In North America we do not customarily eat cuttlefishes, or squid, but consider them chiefly a bait to catch more popular food fishes. But in some European countries these fishes are cured by drying and are valued as food. In Japan even the octopus—which belongs to the same general group of cephalopods or head-footed animals—is seen in the fish market, and is also eaten along the Mediterranean. The "cuttlebone" for canaries is part of an internal shell.

2. We have had quite a lot of crows about the place, acting queerly and some have died. They don't seem to know what they are doing, and pay almost no attention when you come up to them. What ails them?

Probably suffering from a contagious disease called "roup," an epidemic among crows. Symptoms suggest a bad catarrh, the nostrils and eyes being affected. As they can't see to get their food properly when thus afflicted, they starve, and large numbers may die.

3. Can a woodchuck be kept as a pet, and if so, how?

We see no reason why a young chuck could not be kept fairly comfortable, for a time anyway, in an out of doors pen, with a covered retreat of some kind to hide in. Fresh greens as celery top, cabbage, carrot, apple, etc. are liked. In winter the chuck will want to hibernate, and we do not think the creature should be kept captive later than autumn.

AIR DICTIONARY MADE PUBLIC

Rules That Flyers Should Have at Their Finger Tips While Navigating the Upper Regions.

A standard dictionary of the air language under the title of "Nomenclature for Aeronautics" has just been published by the national advisory committee for aeronautics in Washington.

Among some of the new terms prescribed by the committee are the following:

"Airway," an aerial highway between three or more cities, marked and equipped with fields and radio stations.

"Airport," a terminal of an airway, with tracts of water and land for alighting, shops and hangars.

"Amphibian," an airplane designed to rise from and alight on either land or water.

Most motorcar operators will expect that "gassing" means filling the fuel tanks of an aircraft, but it applies to replenishing the envelopes or containing bags, lighter-than-air craft with fresh lifting gas such as hydrogen or helium, to compensate for leakage. The filling of an empty balloon with gas is known as "inflation."

Gender has practically been eliminated from terms used in flying. A "pilot" today is either a man or woman operator of an aircraft. The term applies to both heavier and lighter-than-air operations. The old terms "aviator" and "aeronaut" are discarded. "Aviatrix" was never approved officially.

Moscow, March 30.—Nicolai Lenine is holding his own, but has made no progress towards recovery in the past 24 hours, it was announced today. The bulletin said his condition was unchanged.

THEY SAY "DON'T" INVITE MEASLES

Parents who believe that small children should have measles and other contagious diseases very early in life "to get it over with" are having this commonly accepted belief contradicted by medical men affiliated with the American Child Health Association, which organization is a merger of the American Child Hygiene Association and the Child Health Organization of America.

Dr. P. C. Jeans, director of the Child's Clinic at Washington University Dispensary, St. Louis, urges preventing all sorts of infectious diseases among very young children, saying, "Next to nutritional diseases as a cause of death in the first year are the infectious and contagious diseases. All of these infections are much more serious at this period than later. Even a common cold in infancy is likely to extend to pneumonia, as well as cause other somewhat less serious complications."

He further states that many colds are very contagious and no infant should be exposed needlessly to any person suffering from one. Measles and whooping cough especially should be postponed if possible, since both are likely to be serious in very young children, but seldom are after the age of four or five.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATERS

Kentucky, home of mint julep aristocracy, beautiful women, thoroughbred horses and magnificent scenery. The Pacific ocean, romantic, tyrannic and historic, grave of hopes and boon to idle dreams. These two are the locations of "The Kentucky Derby" at Keeney's tonight and Saturday, taken from Charles T. Dazey's famous stage play, "The Suburban" which was presented some twenty years ago to thousands of enthusiastic theatergoers. A Sunshine comedy "Dandy Dan" is also programmed. Coming Monday for three days is the big picture play, "Quincy Adams Sawyer" starring Lon Chaney, Blanche Sweet and John Bowers. It is adapted from Charles Felton Pidgin's book of the same name.

Neal Hart is a western thriller, "The Lure of Gold," is the attraction at the Auditorium tonight; also a Billy West comedy. Saturday Herbert Rawlinson in "The Prisoner."

"Anna Ascends," Alice Brady's latest Paramount picture, is at the Orpheum today. The story is strong and there are many genuine thrills in the action. Robert Ellis and David Powell, prominent film players have the leading male parts and vaudeville. Tomorrow only, double feature, William Russell in "Man's Size" and Harry Carey in "Hair Trigger Burke."

French Occupy Stations.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dortmund, March 30. French troops today occupied the railway stations at Luettringhausen, Hoarde and Aplerbeck, seizing 150 railway cars, part of which were laden with beer.

With the exception of one or two other minerals, such as nickel, which are only faintly magnetic, iron is the only known metal with powers of magnetism.

Lady Mary Cambridge

Lady Mary Cambridge's engagement to the Marquis of Worcester has set England by the ears, for she had always been mentioned as the bride-to-be of the bachelor Prince of Wales. Lady Mary is to act as a bridesmaid at the forthcoming marriage of Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon and the Duke of York. Her fiance is heir to the title and estates of the Duke of Beaufort.

HOTEL FOR STOVE WOOD

It's on Half a Block in Germany, and It's Worth $1.85.

A three-story hotel in Goettingen, Germany, occupying half of a principal block, with a frontage of 300 feet, is worth $1.85, according to Karl Eiller, owner of the hotel, and for 12 years a resident of Pittsburgh. He has received a letter from Germany offering 190,000 marks for the place, which also includes a small brewery. He said when he obtained the hotel he paid $250 to clear a mortgage on it.

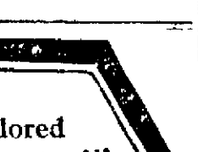

Eiller's mother, who gave him the hotel two years ago, is forced by the government to rent most of her home to strangers, and is suffering from cold, owing to lack of fuel. He said he wrote her to tear down the hotel and use it for stove wood.

N. Y. CONFERENCE OF M. E. CHURCH

The New York annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will convene at the Park Avenue Methodist Church, New York city, April 3, at 1 o'clock. Meeting of the board of examiners will be followed by examinations for all students in the traveling and local courses at 2 o'clock. Except in the case of students and examiners entertainment will begin with luncheon Wednesday, April 4, and will continue until the close of the conference session.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson, D. D., LL. D., will preside at this session, which is the one hundred and twenty-fourth. Conference sessions will close the program on Monday, April 9. The first New York Methodist boys' conference will be held April 6 to 8, in connection with the conference session. The sessions will center in Union Church, West 48th street. One session will be held in Park Avenue Church Saturday morning.

POLICEMAN SHOT BY ANOTHER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 30.—John Cordes, detective, is in a critical condition today as a result of a gun battle last night with two robbers and a policeman who mistook him for an ally of the bandits. Cordes and the policeman, James McDade, exchanged shots after each other had ordered the other to "throw up his hands."

A brother of the detective, who was not on the police force, and one of the robbers also were wounded. The other robber was arrested.

Cordes, his brother and McDade interrupted the hold-up of a cigar store on Lexington avenue, but all were in plain clothes. While the police fired at each other, the bona fide bandits took advantage of the confusion to send several shots in their direction.

DROVE CAR WHILE DRUNK AND IS FINED $75 IN NEWBURGH

Milton Man Has Costly Experience In Down River City.

"How do you plead to the charge of driving a car while intoxicated?" asked Judge Decker of Newburgh of David B. Frederick, 38 years old, a farmer of Milton in police court there Thursday.

"I'll have to plead guilty," answered Frederick, "that is if I want to tell the truth."

Judge Decker imposed a fine of $75 or 75 days in jail. Frederick after getting in touch with friends raised the amount and paid his fine.

St. James's Men's Club.

The Men's Club of St. James's M. E. Church will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, April 3. The entertainment committee has secured through the Fish and Game Association, an expert from the state conservation commission, who will give a very instructive and entertaining lecture on the wild life of this state. This lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides and moving pictures, and will be free. The club will hold monthly meetings with a different class of entertainment at each meeting, and it will be possible for men who have no church affiliation to join the club, as membership in the church is not necessary in order to become a member.

DAILY TOWS OUT OF CREEK HERE

The towing season is now in full swing on the Hudson river, with daily tows leaving and arriving here. As fast as needed the Cornell line is placing its tugs in commission.

Practically all of the river lines, with the exception of the Hudson River Day Line, which resumes operations May 12, will be running by Monday.

The Catskill-Greendale ferryboat A. F. Beach began regular trips Thursday morning and will continue them during the season.

There will be a change in time April 1 on the ferry Transport, as will be seen in the advertising columns of The Freeman.

With the opening of navigation activities along the Rondout creek are being resumed and practically all of the boatyards are busy building barges.

Old New England Courting Stick.

Because the laws relating to wooing were so strict in old New England, a peculiar device called the courting stick came into use. This was a sort of speaking tube—a stick six feet or so long, about an inch in diameter, hollow, and with an enlargement at each end for speaking into and hearing from. A picture illustrating the method of its use represents the father seated at the fireplace, the mother busy spinning, the daughter seated on a bench by the mother knitting, while the young man caller is sitting across the room with cider mug and pitcher beside him. He is in the act of raising the courting stick to his mouth, the other end of which is lying in the lap of the young woman. The courting stick insured at least a minimum of privacy for the lovers' talk.

The Younger Generation.

"Ah!" said the old countryman sadly, somewhat muddled by conventional grief and the beer he was sipping, "I be just come from buryin' my poor old fyther; he was 95, he were—I only be seventy-four last Christmas. We don't live to them old ages nowadays."—London Morning Post.

WONDERFUL NEW AID IN WASHTUB AND SCRUB BUCKET

Removes Stains, Whitens Clothes, Cuts Dirt

Women will welcome a wonderful new discovery that saves work and time not only on washday but every day in the week. A little of the new preparation, NACO, used in the washtub and perhaps also in the boiler, not only removes stains from your table linens and other white linen and cotton garments, but also restores that lustrous new whiteness you rarely see duplicated at home. This it does too without the slightest injury to the flimsiest fabrics. In fact, it adds considerably to their length of wear, by eliminating the necessity of hard rubbing.

For sickroom and nursery wash it is particularly gratifying. Blood stains, medicine stains and Baby's thousand and one spills and soils, are quickly dissolved deodorized and disinfected, restoring the bed clothes and white garments as fresh and sweet as though they had never been used.

Then in the varied cleaning around the house NACO is a marvelous help. Used with ordinary soap it magically loosens the dirt and grime on floors and walls and wood-work, on paints and tiling and porcelain. And it will not injure or mar the surface.

Get NACO at your grocer's. 15c secures a generous size bottle.—Advertisement.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

COPYRIGHT BY WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION

APRIL

"I heard March was really quite upset," said April to the Fairy Queen.

"Quite," said the Fairy Queen.

"I didn't hear about it for quite a long time. But it seems that March was sad to think that all the blame was always put upon the month and that it wasn't March's fault because Spring and Winter had their talk during March."

"I can't blame March," said April.

"Neither can I," said the Fairy Queen.

"You see, March said that when a nice day came in March everyone said that it could not be trusted.

"Of course, March agreed that it was hard to be a month when Winter and Spring were talking for Winter and Spring interrupt each other when they get excited, and each relates adventures, and one never knows when the one will begin and the other stop.

"But yet as March said if a nice day comes in the autumn everyone is pleased, and if a cold day comes everyone thinks it is bracing, but such nice thoughts no one ever has about March."

"And that is so," said April. "Now, if a cold day comes along in my month, people will say:

"'A touch of winter is in the air still.'

"But I am not called treacherous.

"If a very warm day comes along people will say:

"'Why, it seems like summer at last.'

"And no one will say that warm clothes must not be taken off because it would be dangerous. It is true I am a milder month because Spring pretty well takes up all my time and Winter pays but few visits.

"Yet I do feel sorry for March. Now I could be blamed for lots of things. April showers are as uncertain as uncertain can be.

"One never knows when a shower is going to come or when it will go. And there is lots of mud in April. Oh yes, the ground has thawed out and the mud is thick and deep.

"But April isn't blamed. Ah, I'm a lucky month. I'm let off easily.

"And April Fool's Day comes the very first day of my month and everyone fools everyone else—at least up to noon—and yet no one thinks it is a bit foolish because April has an April Fool's Day in the month!

"I'd say that March was the black sheep in the family. And like a real black sheep gets the blame for much that isn't deserved.

"I'm a Lucky Month."

"March is a bit wayward, but then March just seems to be the unlucky one in the family.

"Yes, I must say I'm sorry for March.

"But, Fairy Queen, I wonder if you will come to the Rainbow Ball I am giving. I'd like to have all of the fairies and all of your friends and relatives."

"What joy!" said the Fairy Queen. "Why, this is awfully good of you, April. I'm sure we'll all come, with pleasure."

"My party is to be tomorrow," said April. "Don't bother to wear anything fancy. In fact, good strong raincoats and umbrellas would be the best costumes, for the party is to be quite a long one."

"Well, that would be fun," said the Fairy Queen. "We would love to come to a party in rainy-day things for a change."

So the next day all of the Fairies, Elves, Gnomes, Brownies, old Witty Witch, Mr. Giant and the Fairy Queen and all of the relatives and friends of the Fairyland people came to April's party.

They all wore bathing suits and heavy raincoats, and each carried a little green and brown umbrella which had been loaned by the Fairyland Umbrella Loaners. They always loan umbrellas in Fairyland, but unlike many other people the Fairies always return these umbrellas to the loaners.

April greeted them all and then the party began. First the showers began, then the Sun came peeping about, and then the Sun and Showers danced together and the Rainbow came then as the guest of honor.

And oh, what colors there were to be seen, what a sparkling and a dazzling dance was that done by the Sun and the Showers and what scenery was given by the Rainbow, and the Fairyland creatures danced, too, in their jolly little April party costumes!

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

A well-made celery soup is especially delicious. The following is a good one:

Cream of Celery Soup.—Take three cupfuls of diced celery, cook in boiling water to cover until tender. Press through a sieve. Scald three cupfuls of milk with a slice of onion, remove the onion and add the milk to the celery. Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter and add four tablespoonfuls of flour, cook until thick, season well and add to the milk and celery. Cook until smooth; serve hot with croutons.

Grapefruit Salad.—Cut grapefruit in halves and remove the fruit, mix with equal amounts of pineapple and one or two bananas, add a dash of salt and cayenne, sugar to taste. Fill the grapefruit shells and garnish with maraschino cherries.

Apple Sponge.—Pare, core and cook six tart apples to a pulp. Rub through a sieve. Mix two tablespoonfuls of flour with three tablespoonfuls of cold water, add one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and one cupful of boiling water. Add the apple pulp, one teaspoonful of lemon juice and sugar to taste. Beat well, remove from the heat and add three egg yolks well beaten. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites and bake in a shallow dish until puffed and brown.

Potato Nests.—Boil potatoes and force through a ricer. To two cupfuls of riced potato add three tablespoonfuls of butter, salt to season and cream to moisten, beat until creamy, add the yolks of two eggs and shape into nests. Brush over with diluted egg yolk and water and brown in the oven. Fill with creamed peas and serve hot.

Chicken With Olives.—Cut up two young chickens into joints and cook until very tender in three pints of boiling water, salt and pepper when nearly tender, adding one chopped onion. Drain and wipe dry, then fry in oil or other sweet fat until brown. Strain the broth, using a large cupful for the sauce; put this into the frying pan after the chicken is cooked, add two dozen chopped green olives, a tablespoonful of capers, and when hot pour over the chicken and serve.

JEWISH HOSPITAL WELL SUPPORTED

At least one half million of America's three million Jews have had a share in building up and maintaining the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives at Denver, Colorado, Manny Strauss of New York, chairman of the Subscribers' Convention which the hospital is going to hold in June, announced today. Mr. Strauss said that fifty thousand individuals throughout the United States were supporters of the sanitarium, and that in addition, the hospital was a member of the Federation for the Support of the Jewish Philanthropic Societies of New York city, and of the federation nearly in all the large cities, and through these local charity federations, thousands of individuals give to the support of the Denver hospital.

These interesting statistics were gleaned, Mr. Strauss added, when he undertook to invite all the subscribers to the hospital to attend the June convention, at which plans will be made for the celebration of the institutions silver jubilee in 1924. These figures indicate that the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives has a larger number of individuals interested in its welfare of any "local" institution throughout the country.

This state has 4,022 supporters of the hospital, in addition to the thousands which contribute to it through the charity federation in this city.

UNITY HERE IN SHIP RESTRICTION

Department of Justice Approves Clause Forbidding Use of Sold Vessels to Bring Whiskey to U. S.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 30.—The shipping board has the full approval of the department of justice in making buyers of American ships promise not to use the vessels to import liquor into the United States, it was learned officially today.

The opinion of the government's legal branch was asked by Secretary of State Hughes following a protest from the Canadian government against restrictions imposed by the shipping board in the transfer of its vessels to foreign registry.

In selling ships to foreigners, the shipping board inserts a clause in the bill of sale which prohibits the vessel from being used for the illegal transportation of liquor to American shores, and gives the United States government authority to confiscate the ship if the contract is violated.

The Canadian government holds that the shipping board has no right under international law to say what use a vessel will be put to after it relinquishes ownership.

Before replying to the Canadian protest, Secretary of State Hughes has called for an opinion from the department of justice and has asked the shipping board to submit all records it has bearing on the controversy.

KILBANE SAYS HE'S WILLING TO MEET DUNDEE.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Cleveland, O., March 30.—"I am ready now, as I have always been, to meet any man in the world in the feather-eight class," Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight champion, told International News Service today, commenting on a statement by the New York boxing commission that he can gain reinstatement by meeting Johnny Dundee in a title match. "I have never been offered a chance to meet Dundee, but I'm perfectly willing to do so. No one who can make the limit is barred. All that is necessary is for someone to make the match."

Children Burn to Death.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Altoona, Pa., March 30.—Two children, George Ridneck, 4, and Mary, his sister, aged 2, were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed three houses at Rosebud, a mining village. The children were son and daughter of August Ridneck, a miner.

U. S. SURPLUS SHIPS DECAYING

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 30.—One-third of the government ships now tied up in various ports and rivers are "practically useless" for navigation purposes, it was revealed today by a survey conducted by the shipping board.

With nine hundred vessels out of service, it is costing the government $7,000,000 annually to maintain them in their present condition and to guard against deterioration.

TESTIMONY ESTABLISHING FOSTER'S RADICALISM

His Own Statements Link Him With Russian Reds.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

St. Joseph, Mich., March 30.—William Z. Foster was elected American representative of the Central Executive Committee of the Red Trade Union Internationale at its third congress in Russia, it was established here today in the radicals' trial on a charge of criminal syndicalism. Foster said he did not refuse the appointment when told it had been made without consulting him.

Foster advocated a program for his trade union educational league favoring recognition of the proletarian dictatorship in Russia, he testified. Under cross-examination, he admitted telling that in substance to the Communist party convention in Bridgeman, Mich., where he and 31 other radicals were arrested last August 22.

PULLED COMRADE TO SAFETY

Amazing Act of Airedale Who Rescued His Playmate From Wheels of Speeding Train.

The Airedale who saved the life of his mate, a large setter, by snatching him off the railway tracks near Cincinnati only an instant before a B. & O. train whizzed over the spot, performed a very remarkable and heroic act. There can be no question about this, says Our Dumb Animals. There were at least two reliable witnesses of the rescue who reported the facts, which were substantially as follows:

Both dogs belonged to one owner. They had been inseparable companions. The setter was subject to fits, and when the locomotive gave its warning whistle he was suddenly stricken and dropped between the rails paralyzed. The Airedale was a smaller dog, but quick and wiry. All of his breed are fast workers. The Airedale grasped the situation instinctively, if you must have it so, but with every indication of rapid reasoning. His mental processes prompted him to act instantly and desperately. He achieved his purpose and dragged him over the rail, not a second too soon, and then down the declivity to a safe place; there to revive him from coma by licking him with his tongue. The account of this rescue at once stirred up the old controversy of instinct versus reason in the dog among psychologists and dog fanciers. It is our opinion that one need not be either of these to discern and determine intelligence and reason in the animal that has associated himself closest with man.

SOME WISDOM IN LAZINESS

Reserving a Little Time for Thought Is by No Means the Worst of Human Attributes.

Writing for a current magazine of "The Wisdom of Laziness," Fred C. Kelly says:

"Frank B. Gilbreth, the great industrial engineer and student of human motions, frequently makes moving pictures of expert workmen in various trades to determine how few different movements are needed in performing a piece of work.

"He finds that the best worker—that is, the one from whom others can learn the most, is invariably a lazy man, willing to work only just hard enough to hold his job. He is too lazy to waste a single motion that he can avoid.

"The more energetic man is far less efficient because he doesn't mind squandering his energy in unnecessary movements. At the end of the day he is fatigued out of all proportion to the work done.

"We often hear a man who makes a great commotion about his job spoken of approvingly as a hustler. But the average hustler never outgrows taking orders from some quiet fellow seated at a desk in the main office."

A radical reversion from the old gospel of the man who was "chain lightning" on his job. But now that Mr. Kelly reminds us, we did hear once on a time that chain lightning never strikes anything.

Prime Sport in Swordfishing.

The barkentine Monitor recently arrived at Seattle from a cruise in the South seas, bringing the report that a swordfish, evidently mistaking the boat for a whale, attacked from underneath. It came up with such momentum that its sword was driven through a six-inch plank in the hull. When investigation was made to discover the cause of a leak, the fish's sword was found, minus the teeth, in the thick plank.

What is regarded as a prime summer sport is swordfishing along the northern sea coast of the United States. The swordfish is harpooned, the harpooner standing behind an iron protection as high as his waist. The swordfish preys on schools of spawning fishes. While frequently seen in the Pacific waters, it is a native of the North Atlantic, the Mediterranean sea and the vicinity of the Antilles. It becomes as large as a shark, and has a mackerel-shaped body.

Napoleon Overthrew Directory.

The "Five Kings of France" was a term applied to the body of five men constituting the French directory. To them was entrusted the executive government of France from October 26, 1795, to November 9, 1799. They were frequently styled "Their Five Majesties of the Luxembourg." The directory was overthrown by Napoleon Bonaparte on the 18 Brumaire (Nov. 9, 1799), and the consulate established in its stead.

DUNNIGAN BILL IS PIGEONHOLED

Will Die In Committee, Says Machold, But Cuvillier Will Attempt To Have Committee Discharged.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, March 30.—If Speaker Machold of the Assembly has correctly diagnosed the attitude of the Republicans of the lower house, the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement law will not be repealed this year, despite the fact that a repeal measure has been passed in the Democratic Senate.

The Dunnigan repealer, which was approved by the Senate, is now held in the excise committee of the Assembly, and it will remain there for the remainder of the session unless the Democrats are able to muster 76 votes to have the committee discharged. This is impossible, according to the dry Republicans.

Assemblyman Cuvillier, New York Democrat, who has fought to wipe the Mullan-Gage law from the statute books since the first day of the session, will go before the excise committee next Tuesday afternoon and urge that the Dunnigan bill be reported. If the committee refuses, he says he will move to discharge probably the following day.

According to Speaker Machold all wet legislation, so far as the Assembly is concerned, is "dead." That means the excise committee doesn't intend to let the Dunnigan bill out for a vote on the floor of the house unless forced by a motion to discharge.

A few weeks ago Mr. Cuvillier was defeated in an effort to have the excise committee discharged from further consideration of his bill, which was identical with the Dunnigan measure. The Republicans who are fighting the repeal of the state dry law, declare that if Mr. Cuvillier could not get his bill out of committee there is no good reason to think that he will be more successful with the Dunnigan bill.

Democrats are claiming, however, that because the repeal measure originated in the Democratic Senate and was first passed by that body, that more Republicans will vote for the discharge of the committee than did for the Cuvillier bill. Mr. Cuvillier says he will have the necessary 76 votes, but the drys are saying that he made the same statement before, but when the result of the vote was counted it was found he did not have near enough votes.

There are at least three dry Democrats, Kahler of Chemung, Livingston Columbia and Cross of Sullivan, who are expected to vote against the Dunnigan bill.

FIND IT HARD TO BE QUIET

According to Critic, the Ordinary American Knows Little About Sitting at His Ease.

The ability to sit quiet is not too common among Americans. For some reason many people find it easier to talk if they pluck at the upholstered arm of the chair in which they sit, or twist a corner of the sofa cushion, or swing one foot in listless motion, or play with a pencil or a paper cutter or some other object. Fidgeting is a disagreeable habit; the other person finds his attention becoming more and more fixed upon the repetition of meaningless mechanical movements and more and more distracted from other matters.

Because fidgeting raises in this way a barrier to easy social intercourse, it handicaps the person who fidgets. Moreover, it expresses lack of poise and self-control. Restfulness is of the essence of dignity. The person who has not trained himself to sit and talk without any undue nervous movements of the fingers and feet has not really achieved complete mastery over his fingers and feet. A good rule to observe with regard to those members is to use them when they ought to be used and at all other times to insist upon their being quiet.—Youth's Companion.

"Biggest Air Port."

Le Bourget, near Paris, is now dignified with the title of largest and most important airport in the world. No less than 4,812 passenger and freight airplanes were used in the various services during 1922.

In 1920 the number of passengers carried was 10,215; in 1922 the number had almost doubled—19,974. An average of 65 passengers daily took their places in air expresses for destinations all over Europe. A total of 463 tons of express were carried in 1922—an augmentation of 885 per cent over 1920. Compared with 1919, when the port was opened, the increase is of 2,200 per cent. Postal packets augmented to the extent of 143 per cent during the year.

Lines from Paris go to London, Tours, Amsterdam, Brussels, Berlin, Strasbourg, Prague, Warsaw, Vienna, Budapest, Morocco, Spain, Nice, Bucharest, Trieste, Sofia, and new fast expresses will start soon for Constantinople. The trip will take two days.

Lauds American Colleagues.

"America is ahead of Europe in brain and nerve surgery and the American surgeons work with remarkable skill and precision." Thus speaks Einar Key, head physician of the Mario hospital in Stockholm, and one of Sweden's best known surgeons, upon returning from a three months' trip to the United States, where he had visited leading hospitals and observed the work of the most eminent surgeons.

While in America Doctor Key lectured at a medical congress arranged by the American College of Surgeons in Boston. He visited large clinics in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland, Baltimore, Syracuse and other places. He declares that American hospitals have better laboratory facilities than those in Europe, while he finds the Swedish hospitals, as a rule are brighter and more cheerful than those of America.

MRS. GRAYNOFSKY'S VERDICT IS CUT

The verdict for $1,500 which was returned in the assault case brought by Mrs. Ray Graynofsky against Esser Jaffe which was tried in supreme court Tuesday before Judge Rosch, was reduced by the court Wednesday. Judge Rosch, on the grounds that the verdict brought in by the jury was excessive in view of the evidence, reduced the verdict to $1,000 in favor of the plaintiff and allowed plaintiff's counsel 10 days in which to stipulate to accept the reduced verdict. Failure on part of the plaintiff to accept the verdict as reduced will result in the court granting of the motion of defendant's counsel to set aside the verdict as excessive. Thos B. Murray appeared for plaintiff and LeRoy Lounsberry for defendant. The action was brought to recover $5,000 for an alleged assault which plaintiff claims was committed upon her by Jaffe who she claims hit her with a fence post, breaking two ribs and otherwise injuring her.

PRESS HONORS GERMAN KING

Reprints Great Frederick's Order Establishing Freedom of Berlin Press.

Frederick the Great first took censorship of Berlin newspapers in 1740, and the Berlin press recently commemorated the anniversary of that event by printing Frederick's order, which marked a new epoch in German newspaper making. The order, given out over the name of Count Podewils, reads as follows:

"The journals of the Berlin newspapers shall have unlimited liberty to write whatever they like, without censorship, in articles concerning what happens here at present. His majesty says these articles amuse him. But, on the other hand, foreign ministers should not complain if they find articles now and then in the local papers which do not please them. I took the liberty to hint that the Russian court is very sharp about such things. His majesty answered that journals must not be constrained if they are to be interesting."

MOUNT TREMPER GRANGE MEETING

The regular business meeting of Mount Tremper Grange was held Friday evening, March 23. Although a stormy night they had the largest attendance so far this year and they are glad to note the interest that is being taken in Grange matters, not only in this grange but in the others throughout the country. One of the most interesting features of the evening was the presentation of a past master jewel to the past master, John Davidson, by the worthy lecturer, Miss Zinckgraf, who made a very appropriate address. The next on the program was the presentation of a gold headed cane from the members of the Grange to Past Master Davidson in token of his services to Mount Tremper Grange.

Worthy Master A. E. DeSilva, who also made a very appropriate address, stated that the officers and members appreciated his services in organizing the Mount Tremper Grange and of being the master from the time it was organized, two and a half years ago, and also of being the first past master.

During this time he had only missed two meeting nights, and those on account of being called away on important matters.

He was ever faithful in his duties and much credit is given him in building up the organization that they now have in Mount Tremper Grange. The officers and members of the Grange will work with unceasing efforts to continue to work where he had left off in building an organization which they will be proud of.

Past Master Davidson responded with a few remarks on the organization of the Grange, what the Grange was working for, and he extended his thanks to the officers and members of the Mount Tremper Grange for the very useful gift they had given him.

After the regular routine of business the Glee Club rendered several musical numbers which were greatly enjoyed by all. Generous refreshments were served at the close. Next meeting will be held Friday evening, April 13.

GALLUPERS ARE GETTING READY

Hear That Captain Twin Gormley, of the Busters, Has Something Up His Sleeve for Coming Season—Some New Faces to be Seen With Gallupers.

"Well, boys," said Captain Ralph Roodboy, as some of his fellow Gallupers met a this house to talk over the approaching baseball season, "I hear that Captain Twin Gormley and his Busters have something up their sleeve to spring on us when the season opens."

"Huh," grunted Blink Biven, the man with the marvel curve of the century, "theyll have to show more stuff than they did last season if they expect to head us off."

"You said it," agreed the others grinning.

"We'll probably use about the same lineup as last season," continued Roodboy, "although I have got several letters here from some fast players who want to sign up with us, and maybe we'll give them a try-out during some of the opening games."

"Who wants to land a berth now?" asked Raiser Turk.

"Mostly twirlers," explained Roodboy, "but with Blink here and myself we appear to be pretty well fixed for the opening of the season anyway, although there is a young fellow named Quiggle who writes he is the real thing in pitching, and as he appears anxious to land a job I may write him to come on, and well give him a whirl anyway."

"According to his letter," continued Roodboy, "he had an exceptionally fine season last year, and won every game besides helping out as a relief pitcher. He says he is the possessor of the famous wiggle curve, and that while he had heard of Blink's famous curve back it has nothing on his wiggle."

Blink merely grunted as the others glanced at him and smiled and said sourly, "Well, he will have to show me before I believe it."

"Quiggle in explaining the wiggle curve," continued Roodboy, reading from the letter he held in hand, says "that he hurls it lefthanded. As it leaves his hand it performs more curves than an active snake dodging a blow from a stick, and just as it reaches the batter it shoots down toward the ground and then suddenly shoots up over the bat.

"He says that the only objection to the curve is that the catcher has to use a grooved glove in order to catch it properly for unless the glove is grooved the ball can't be held but slips right through."

"Remember how we beat one of the Busters' new pitchers last season by using grooved bats to bat the cockeyed curve?" interrupted Fatty Cink.

"I do," replied Roodboy, "but Quiggle writes that grooved bats will not hit his curve owing to the fact that as it reaches the plate it changes to either a drop or an up shoot and resumes its wiggling after it passes the plate. He said that last season all the players he pitched to had to have an optician attend to their eyes as they acquired curvature of the eye from trying to hit the wiggle."

"What's curvature of the eye?" asked Zink Biven.

"Darned if I know," confessed Roodboy.

RANGER FIVE BEATS ASHOKAN A. C. 28-14.

On Wednesday evening at the Lanesville hall the Ranger Five of that place defeated the Ashokan A. C. quintet by a 28 to 14 score. This was the first game played at Lanesville since early in the winter because of the snow-blocked roads in that vicinity. Strenk, playing center for the Ranger team, was thrown against the siding early in the first period and was compelled to leave the game because of a dislocated shoulder.

Wednesday evening, April 4, the Dauntless Five of Kingston, with "Cheese" Burger in its lineup, will play at Lanesville. There will be dancing after the game.

PAIGE

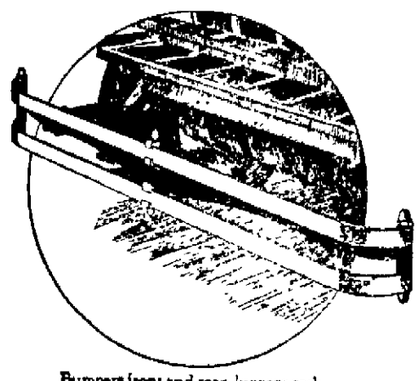

Our Ideal Paige—Ideally Equipped

Automatic windshield wiper, rear-view mirror and sun visor.

Walnut steering wheel, position adjustable to driver's convenience

Bumpers front and rear, luggage rack, body guard rails.

THE pictures tell the story of Paige equipment. Everything that could add to comfort, convenience and beauty is a part of the Paige 6-70. Costing far less than if bought separately, they give you harmonious completeness.

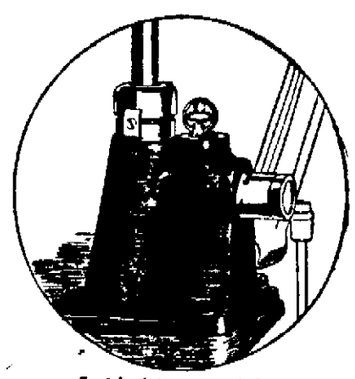

Matching this perfection of appointments, there is not a piece of imitation leather in the entire car; body construction is made squeak-proof with strips of patent leather, keeping metal from touching wood or metal.

Ideally quiet power; the same famed performance as in the Paige past; handling ease delightful to the frailest woman; workmanship of closest practicable accuracy. All priced as only Paige could price a car of highest quality—because big volume on the Paige-built Jewett reduces overhead per car by hundreds of dollars.

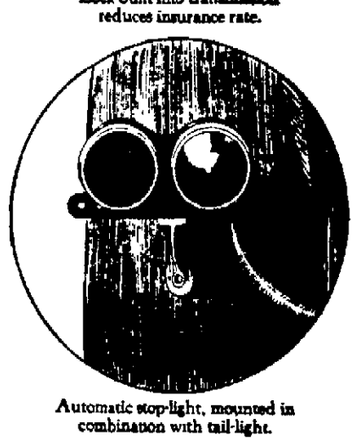

Other equipment not pictured: two extra cord tires, tubes, rims and covers mounted forward, one each side with lock. Snubbers front and rear. Power tire pump; electric cigar-lighter; enclosed cars have heater and safety step-lights.

CHRISTIANITY THE WORLD'S HOPE

Says Great European Prelate in Eastern Sermon—Points to Results of Bolshevist Anti-Christ Campaign.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 30.—Three great perils are hanging over the world at the present time, declared the Very Rev. J. E. C. Weldon, bishop of Durham, and one of the foremost prelates in Europe, in a special Eastertide message written for International News Service today. It took the form of a Good Friday sermon.

In reviewing present day conditions Bishop Weldon said:

"One of these perils is the growing indifference of men and women to the moral laws of Christianity. It shows itself in materialism, in selfishness and in love of luxury; also through the recrudescence of cruel sports such as bull fighting. The second is the alarming increase in divorces which is menacing home life with destruction. But the third and gravest is the spirit of anti-Christ and I can call it nothing else. It is exhibited in Russia where a crusade is under way against the Christian faith, all its doctrines and everything that Christians hold dear. It is fostered by the Bolshevist government. The rites of the Christian church are mocked with impious and obscene profanity. Its result already can be seen in the widespread demoralization among men and women.

"For horrors we can turn our eyes to Smyrna. That was a necessary consequence of Islamic intolerance. And those horrors will be renewed all over the Near East if Christendom does not restrain the Mohammedans.

"There is one hope and, so far as I can see, only one hope for the world and that is the restoration of Christianity. Without Christianity there can be no Christian morality and without Christian morality there can be no Christian civilization.

"Let the churches pledge anew their faith in Christ. Let them close up their ranks and stand shoulder to shoulder against the common enemy. Let them win final victory under the banner of Him who shall ride forth 'conquering and to conquer.' Let there be a religious festival, a revival in the old faith that men and women once knew and cherished."

KIWANIS HAS MUSICAL MEETING

At the Kiwanis weekly luncheon Thursday noon Mulford Stowe of the Wiltwyck Laundry told what happens to the family "wash" after it leaves the housewife's hands for the laundry, a subject which is often joked about, but which Mr. Stowe's talk showed is no joke. Besides, there was a 100 per cent attendance and music galore, vocal, instrumental and chin. The club psychologist said that this was the gladness of spring which was bound to crop out even if the thermometer was crazy. Everyone had a favorite song, it seemed, and when Director Wonderly called for one of his own selection he got surprising results.

Rabbi Kaplan donated the attendance prize which was won by Clyde Wonderly.

Mr. Stowe said that the chief problems of the laundry had always been how to cleanse without injuring the garments and other fabrics sent them, and to mark them so as to be able to return them to their rightful owners. The cleansing problem has at last been satisfactorily solved by means of net bags in which the clothing is placed for washing, after it has been separated into four general classes, white, colored, silks and wools and cottons. An entirely satisfactory marking system has not been devised since most people object to having ink markings on their napkins and other fabrics but comparatively few mistakes are made and those are promptly rectified. The chief progress has been made in the way of getting the clothing clean without injuring it. To this end nine operations are gone through, nine waters, from the first one which is about 50 degrees in temperature and contains a small quantity of soda to the final one in the extractor which revolves at great speed. He explained the various chemicals used and their necessity because of the wide variety of "dirt" in the fabrics received. The bleaching process requires acetic acid of about the same strength as vinegar to remove the lime which is bound to be present and which, if not removed, would ruin the clothes. The acid itself is easily removed in the two final rinsings. The ironing is done in much the same way the housewife does hers.

Next Thursday the club will have its dinner at the Church of the Comforter.

POUGHKEEPSIE'S DISPUTE ON DEBATE IS INDEFENSIBLE

Writes Local Lawyer Who Listened to Discussion.

Kingston, N. Y., March 29, 1923.
The Editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Kingston, New York
Dear Sir:

I had the pleasure of listening to the debate between the students of the Poughkeepsie High School and the Kingston High School and learned a good many things about our relations with the European powers, which I would not have learned if I myself had had to make the researches that the debaters made in their preparations for this public contest.

I have since read an extract from a Poughkeepsie paper from which it appears that our neighbors from the Bridge City feel aggrieved at the decision of the judges.

Before the two sides submitted their case, the Poughkeepsie team called the attention of the judges to an apparent difference as to the amount of the debt owed by Europe to America. While I do not think that the amount had anything to do with the merits of the case, it certainly was the duty of the Poughkeepsie team to settle that question before entering upon the debate at all, and if they discovered after the debate was over, that this misunderstanding existed, they should have immediately announced that the debate was off, and called for a new debate. This announcement should have been made before the matter was submitted to the judges. Having failed to do this, they were precluded from finding fault with the decision of the judges. If the Poughkeepsie team will bear these facts in mind, and will be guided by them in future debates, they will have no cause for dissatisfaction. It seems to me also that while the judges appeared to have been fair in their decision, they may have been unconsciously influenced by their own views as to the subject of cancellation. In other words, the Poughkeepsie team invited defeat by choosing the unpopular side and handicapping themselves in advance.

Thanking you for the use of your columns, I remain
Yours very truly,
UPTOWN LAWYER.

HOW WORLD WAS PEOPLED

Comprehensive Expression Concerning One of the Greatest Problems of Anthropology.

Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, the distinguished American ethnologist, contributes to the proceedings of the American Philosophical society an important paper on the peopling of Asia, which "touches one of the greatest problems of anthropology." He concludes that the cradle of humanity was essentially southwestern Europe, with, later, the Mediterranean basin, western Asia and Africa. It is primarily from Europe and secondarily from these regions that the earth was peopled, and this peopling was comparatively recent. Early man was unable to people the globe, owing to his insufficient efficiency and until the end of glacial times and his old stone culture he had evidently all he could do to preserve mere existence. Only an advance in culture could enable him to control his environment and secure a steady surplus of births over deaths. The cause of man's peopling of the world was not a mere wish to do so, but the necessity arising from growing numbers and correspondingly decreasing supply of food. It was this which eventually led to agriculture. This spreading over the globe was conditioned by three great laws—movement in the direction of least resistance; movement in the direction of the greatest prospects; movement due to a force from behind, or compulsion.

DISEASE AFFECTS ALL TREES

White Pine Blister Rust an Enemy to Be Combated by the Entire Civilized World.

Giant white pines in Switzerland that in 118 years have fought their way to a height of 130 feet and more are being killed by white pine blister rust, and no effort is being made to control the spread of the disease, according to Dr. Perley Spaulding of the United States Department of Agriculture, who recently returned from eight months' study of rust conditions in Europe. Doctor Spaulding, who made the trip to determine the extent of damage done to old trees and to seek any new points in the life history of the disease, says that the white pine blister rust has been known in Switzerland since 1854 but that it has been only within the last ten years that it has spread in such a state of destructiveness. The present necessity of co-operating in an attempt to control the spread of the disease in the United States, he says, will be better realized and facilitated by lumbermen throughout this country when it can be pointed out to them that the disease affects old trees as easily as young seedlings.

As Others See Us.

Our children probably give us the truest glimpse of ourselves we ever get. The other day May arranged the entire family in a row in the bathroom. There were assembled three real dogs, an unbreakable doll with a broken nose, a drunken elephant and an amorous teddy bear. She placed herself before them rigidly and wagged her finger up and down.

"Don' touch the baby's bottle. Don' you dare" she said in exaggerated mimicry of me. "Did you hear me, ma?" she exclaimed sternly. She seized the elephant, spanked him smartly and placed him back with a decided thump.

"Dere, now young lady," she said to him severely. Then, after a moment's silence, "Well, don't cry. Mamma loves you, but you mus' mind your mamma."

Whereupon she took up the disgraced elephant, kissed the injured spot warmly and mothered him tenderly.

I felt humiliated, but was glad to see she made it up with the disreputable old thing.—Farm Life.

Honor System in Prisons.

One of Italian Premier Mussolini's first actions on coming to power has been the adoption for state prisons of the "honor system" in vogue in Oregon and other western American states and which was once tried out at Sing Sing.

Mussolini is greatly impressed by the success of the system as practiced in America and has ordered that, among other things, solitary confinement be abolished in Italian penitentiaries, and all prisoners be given a chance to work on farms or in factories at stated wages.

These wages will be divided into three parts, one of which goes to the state, to form a fund for the betterment of prison conditions, a second part to the party which suffered under the crime for which the prisoner was convicted, and the third part held in trust by the authorities until the day of the prisoner's discharge.

Italy is the first European country to adopt the honor system.

Lumber Consumption Drops.

Since 1906 the per capita consumption of lumber in the United States has dropped from 500 board feet to 316 board feet.

Boost Pete Donahue.

Critics consider Pete Donahue one of the greatest pitchers picked up by the National league in years.

Donahue came direct from a Texas college to the Cincinnati Reds and made good in his first start.

By many Donahue is called a "second Mathewson," which is some compliment to a youngster.

Donahue has been the ace of the none too strong Cincinnati pitching staff. With him on the mound the Reds have been a tough club to beat.

The fine showing of Donahue stands out as one of the features of the rather erratic play of the Reds.

EASY FIELDING CHANCE HARD

Most Errors Are Made by Players on Hits That Look Like Cinches, Says Cutshaw.

George Cutshaw, now with Detroit, who has played second base more years than he cares to think about, says that the hardest fielding chance is the one that looks easiest. He explains: "You see an infielder set for a ball. He is in front of it. It looks like the easiest kind of a chance. And then the ball passes through his legs. When you are set for a ball, the ball must bound true. If it takes a false bound, which many balls do, it is hard to shift suddenly. When you are in motion and the ball takes a funny hop it is much easier to switch and get the ball because you are in motion anyway. When you are set you have to go into action and then adjust yourself. That is hard to do because it takes time. And the time you lose prevents you from making the play. Also, hard-hit grounders are easier to field than 'soft' ones. I don't know of any infielder who would not much rather have a hard one come at him than an easy one. Most errors are made on the chances that look like cinches, but which are really the hardest fielding chances."

HUMAN LIFE MERELY JEST

In Mexico there is no law by which damages can be recovered for the loss of human life. But in the case of cattle it is different, remarks the Birmingham Age-Herald. The Mexican law takes cognizance of cattle. When they are lost their value can be recovered, a singular distinction in the statutes of our neighbor to the south, though that is due perhaps to the fact that the court dockets there would be too hopelessly crowded if lives of human beings could be sued over. This legal anomaly was brought out in an investigation just concluded at Mexicali, Lower California, as to the wreckage of the steamer Topolobampo in the Gulf of California last November, when about 100 human lives were lost.

If the cargo had been live stock instead of cotton pickers of the poorest Mexican class, the federal authorities ruled, there would have been damages. But with the only difference of opinion at the hearing being on the number of lives lost, a tragic tale of the sea was told. When the high tides in the Gulf of California fall abruptly, the Colorado river, forced back by the waters of the gulf sometimes for 40 miles, rushes down with immeasurable force, and ships that were, are not. That is what happened to the Topolobampo, with its 80 or 100 Mexicans unaccounted for on land or sea.

LANDMARKS THAT MAKE CITY

Occasionally Townsmen Don't Realize Just What Has Been the Attraction That Brings Visitors.

No town finds out how many shrines and landmarks it has until some one installs a rubberneck wagon. It ought to be quite a revelation for many of its inhabitants to ride about in the sightseeing vehicles of their own town; sometimes, as instructive as visiting the museums of local historical societies.

Visitors' expressed desire for the local sights, always betray unerringly what the city is most famed for. It doesn't much matter what is most important to the tourist.

Salem, Mass., has long since discovered that the shadow of the witches is "over" it all, and has resignedly erected billboards at its main gateways welcoming the motorists to "The Witch City," and Fredericktown, Md., although maintaining stoutly the flimsiness of the Barbara Frietsche legend, is willing to humor the visitors about it.

Whatever makes a town noted abroad, it is best to make the most of, for the world will have it so. "Sights" are what popular imagination or association make such, and nobody discovers this with greater swiftness than the genial guide who daily narrates to eager listeners all the facts and traditions he can gather about them.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Pinchbeck.

To a notorious resident of London we owe the word "pinchbeck." This person, Pinchbeck by name, lived toward the close of the Eighteenth century in the vicinity of the Strand, and manufactured a compound metal which had some of the glitter of gold, but was readily distinguishable from the precious metal by its lesser weight and other palpable differences.

Consequently Pinchbeck's name was eventually applied to shams, counterfeits and spurious things.

As a noun it was, and still is, applied to an alloy of copper and zinc formerly much used in the manufacture of inexpensive jewelry. This alloy, though it presented the appearance of gold, was a cheap substance.—Chicago Journal.

Trip Through Snow in Pajamas Fatal.

As a result of leaving his home and walking ten miles through the snow in a suit of pajamas, Thomas Gotzal is dead at Ashland, Wis. Both of his legs were frozen and would have been amputated if he had lived. Gotzal was demented and left home in the middle of the night, his wife said.

Ships and Shipments.

Little Johnny was seeking information from his father.

"Father," he asked, "freight is goods that are sent by water or land, isn't it?"

"That's right, son."

"Well, then, why is it that the freight that goes by ship is called a cargo, and when it goes by car it is called a shipment?"

And then Johnny wondered why father put on his hat and sauntered outside to get the air.

$1,000,000 FIRE NEAR BELLEVUE

Twenty Hurt in Blaze That Destroyed Madison Square Laundry In New York—Nurses Calm Hospital Patients.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 30.—Six firemen and 14 other persons were injured in a million dollar fire early today that destroyed the Madison Square wet wash laundry, a few doors from Bellevue Hospital where 2,000 patients are under treatment.

Twelve families in a tenement adjoining the burned laundry building fled to the street with policemen helping the women and children out.

The firemen were hurt when the rear wall of the building collapsed, burying them under two feet of debris. Scores of persons who saw the wall fall, rushed to their aid and unearthed them. All were taken to the hospital. The firemen injured were: John Burton, burned face; John V. Spanier, fractured skull; Washington Slater, both legs fractured; William Ellis, both feet fractured; J. A. Kelly, fractured wrist and burned face and hands, and John Sullivan, burned face.

Panic was threatened in the hospital when great clouds of smoke settled over the building and began to fill the halls. Nurses went through the wards calming the patients and reassuring them.

Several buildings adjoining the laundry were badly damaged.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Junius

The Son of a Gun!

The Boss—"Mr. Deputy, I have forbidden all levity and frivolity in the field work, and you know it as well as any other deputy. Yet one of the fair young ladies of our society has just written to me that you kissed her."

Mr. Deputy—"Which one was it?"

About the only fun some people have is feeling scornful about the way the neighbors waste their money.

A bachelor may lose out on a lot of comforts, but he generally knows where to find his pipe when he wants it.

Men criticise women's dress, but the women never criticise the garb worn by some men. They just laugh.

Instead of beginning at the bottom and working up, some wrong couples begin at the top and slide down.

Also Miraculous.

"Grocery butter," says Mrs. Youngone, "is so unsatisfactory, I decided today that we would make our own."

"Oh, did you?" asked her husband.

"Yes, I bought a churn and ordered buttermilk to be left here regularly. Won't it be nice to have really fresh butter?"

The governors got together in conference to figure out the matter of prohibition enforcement, decided it was a fine day, and adjourned indefinitely.

There was an old sculptor named Phidias,
Whose knowledge of art was insidious.
He carved Aphrodite
Without any nightie,
Which startled the purely fastidious.

A good brain-teaser for early spring will be trying to remember whether the lawn mower which has been parked back of the woodshed all winter is your own or the one you borrowed from the next door neighbor last September.

Life, in the opinion of a Kingston Flivver owner is getting to be just one darned "no parking" sign after another.

Expectations.

"De man dat expects sumpin' fob nuffin," said Uncle Eben, "is one of the biggest causes for unemployment."

Samuel Buys Trucks.

David Samuels, the Broadway fruiterer, has purchased two Larrabee motor trucks from William P. Glass, the local agent. Mr. Glass also has sold Larrabee trucks to Kelly, the Poughkeepsie baker, and Morris Kaplan of North Front street.

Body Still Missing.

The body of Edward Hayes, who was drowned two weeks ago at the Rifton dam, has not been recovered. Search for the body was made by fellow employes but without results.

The Home of Patience.

The East is the home of patience. You see it expressed in the exquisite carvings of Persia and in the rugs of Asia Minor, whose myriad knots, deftly placed in marvelous precision, amaze you with their infinite number. With endless perseverance, year after year, often through a lifetime, the artisan of the East will labor patiently at his task that it may be perfect. Inspiration will not alone produce such artistic creations; only boundless patience, steadily applied, will accomplish them.

What Is Good Lens?

A "good" lens, in the photographic sense, is one which will give a perfectly clear distinct image, without distortion, and without "false images," when it is used with a large stop, and over a wide angle. Before, therefore, we are in a position to say whether a lens is "good" or not, we must know at what aperture it will work, and what angle it includes. It is evident, therefore, that something more than a mere capacity to give sharp pictures is necessary.

By Special arrangement with

we have secured actual reproductions of the twelve Paris hats pictured and described in their April issue, out today.

What type of hat have the great Paris designers agreed on for Summer? Here at last is an authoritative selection—the 12 leading hats for April, May, June and July wear.

Each of the leading Paris Designers—CAROLINE REBOUX, MARIA GUY, EVELYNE VARON, MARIE LOUISE, SUZY, GEORGETTE, LUCIE HAMAR, has been asked for her most representative model—the model she considers her best interpretation of the prevailing mode, what a woman should wear this Summer in color, material and design.

These 12 hats will be the determining style influences in American millinery for this Summer season. They are shown in the April Ladies' Home Journal, out today, and are on display in this store.

POSED BY BILLIE BURKE

voted many times the most popular actress in America.

Don't select your Summer hat until you have seen these marvelous new creations. Come in today and study in them the real style tendencies of the season; know what is right before selecting your Summer hat.

GOOD SUITS for Boys

By GOOD we mean strong materials, picked because they will stand hard wear. By GOOD we mean that stitchings, linings, button holes—every part of the suits—is as nearly strain-proof as clothes can be made; reinforced wherever it helps to lengthen the life of the suit.

By GOOD we mean styles that boys really like and weights that are comfortable for Spring and Summer.

By GOOD we mean suits sold to give service, not to meet a price. Suits that will prove, through the service they give, to be the most economical clothes that any boy can wear.

K. OF C. FOURTH DEGREE APRIL 29

Large delegations of members of the Knights of Columbus from Kingston, Newburgh and Saugerties and other points in this section will journey to Albany on April 29th next to witness the grand exemplification of the Fourth Degree which will take place in that city on that day. It will be an occasion when members of the order from all parts of the state will gather in the Capital City to witness the conferring of the degree upon perhaps one of the largest classes ever conferred in this state. At the banquet which will take place at the conclusion of the degree at the Ten Eyck Hotel, Rear Admiral William S. Benson of the United States Shipping Board and other prominent speakers will address the members. Admiral Benson is perhaps one of the chief outstanding figures of the World War as he was the directing genius who conceived and supervised the carrying into effect of the plans for the transportation of all the American troops abroad, an achievement without parallel in history. Arrangements for the degree are being rapidly completed with representation from every council of the order in the district and it is expected to be one of the principal events in the Order of the Knights of Columbus in this state for some time to come.

NOT TO PASS SEVEN INCH TROUT MEASURE

A. L. Danforth, president of the Jefferson County Fish and Game Protective Association, has received a letter from Speaker H. Edmund Machold, stating that the 7-inch trout will will not pass the assembly. The bill has passed the senate. There is much interest in the seven inch trout bill in this section, and every possible effort has been made to check the bill. The minimum length trout allowed under the present law is 6 inches. Mr. Danforth also received word that the funds for payment of a larger force of game protectors had been favorably acted on. At the present time there are only 90 protectors on the list and under the new bill there will be 130 protectors.

CHARITIES AID ASS'N. BACKS CHILDREN'S COURTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 30.—Homer Folks, secretary of the State Charities Aid Association, in a statement given out today, made known the opposition of the State Charities Aid Association to the efforts which are being made in the Legislature to nullify or restrict the Juvenile Court Law passed last year, establishing county children's courts in all counties of the state (except where they already exist and in Erie and Onondaga counties outside of Buffalo and Syracuse.)

CITY GAINS 281 IN POPULATION

Census figures released at Washington announce that Kingston on July 1 next will have 281 more population than it had in 1920. Increases in cities up and down the Hudson Valley have been moderate according to a report of the bureau made, not by a door-to-door canvass, but from compilations of statistical experts.

Figures for other cities are:

Albany, 1920, 113,344; July 1, 1923, 117,375. Schenectady, 1920, 88,723; July 1, 1923, 94,273. Amsterdam, 1920, 33,524; July 1, 1923, 34,386. Poughkeepsie, 1920, 35,000; July 1, 1923, 37,545. Newburgh, 1920, 30,366; July 1, 1923, 31,288. Kingston, 1920, 26,688; July 1, 1923, 26,969. Middletown, 1920, 18,420; July 1, 1923, 19,540.

EAST KINGSTON TEAM TO BE KNOWN AS STUDEBAKERS

The East Kingston baseball this year will be known as the Studebaker Athletic Club. The Studebaker Club had one of the best records of any team in the Hudson Valley last season winning 22 games out of 25 played. Dave Schenck has equipped the team with new uniforms, and therefore they will be called "Studebakers," after the car for which Mr. Schenck has the agency. Bill McNally will again manage the team with Jack Watzka as captain. The players so far signed are Flanagan, Hurson, T. Armand, Acker, Watzka, F. Smith and Vertites. The club will open its season about the middle of April, with the Kingston Regulars as the attraction.

Decree of Divorce.

Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley of Albany, has granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Bessie Moose against Henry Moose. The parties were united at Blue Mountain, on the 21st day of September, 1922. Mrs. Moose was formerly Miss Bessie Van Buskirk of Saugerties. Grant M. Brunner was attorney for Mrs. Moose, the plaintiff.

A Chauffeurs' Examination.

The state department will hold a Chauffeurs' examination at the city hall on April 12, at 9:30 o'clock that morning.

EX-KAISER AND HIS BRIDE GROWING MORE ESTRANGED

Honeymoon Walks Have Ceased and Former War Lord Appears Much Older and Thinner.

The honeymoon of William and Hermine has at last come to an end, in the opinion of the inhabitants of Doorn. The pleasant walks arm in arm along the solitary roads of the village, under the protection of a captain of the Dutch gendarmerie, ended abruptly several days ago. The disappearance of the couple from the village steers gave rise to numerous rumors to the effect that the former emperor was seriously ill, or that an attempt had been made upon his life, but investigation has failed to show any authority for either statement.

For about three weeks it has been reported that deep discord existed between the couple. One reason assigned was that William bore with difficulty the dictatorial tone of his wife, who insisted that at the castle every one, not including her husband, should act and conduct himself according to her ideas. Hence Hermine has been in constant hot water, for her attitude was resented. Nevertheless, both Hermine and her daughter were present at a dinner given on the occasion of William's anniversary.

In spite of the evident tension, it is not believed that a rupture is imminent. Hermine's children are still living with their old nurse in the building at the entrance to the park, and Hermine occupies her apartment in the chateau not far from that of her husband.

This fact, however, seems to be established, since his marriage William has become thinner and apears much older. All who have seen him during the past few days remark how ill he is looking and how feebly he walks.

PRISON FOR SWEDISH "VAGS"

Government Plans Hard Labor Sentence for Habitual Hoboes.

Habitual hoboes in Sweden will hereafter go to work or be sentenced to enforced labor for two or three years, if the recommendations submitted by the government committee on legislation for the care of the poor are adopted.

A person liable to arrest as a vagrant would first be warned by the local authorities. At the same time they must try to find work and lodging for the vagrant.

If the person reverts to vagrancy and again makes himself liable to arrest, he may be sentenced to enforced labor. For good behavior he may be released on probation, and will be helped to establish himself in a gainful occupation.

The committee further recommends that women of low repute be treated as vagrants, though it is held every effort should be made to redeem them to orderly life through the work of social institutions, especially organized for this purpose.

Girls Save Men Stranded in Snow.

Four Boston (Mass.) girls, members of a mountain climbing party, formed a human chain and rescued two men who had fallen into a bear den 16 feet below the surface of the snow, near North Conway, N. H. Hazen Jones and Arthur P. McMullin were lost for an hour when they fell into the den after breaking through a thin crust of snow.

Shortage of 25 Cents Causes Suicide.

Worrying over a shortage of 25 cents in his accounts, John Fairbanks, postmaster of West Chicago, committed suicide, it is believed. His body was found with a bullet in the head. An auditor discovered the 25-cent shortage.

Town Breadless When Baker Weds.

Gibbstown, N. J., was without bread when its only baker, Everett Munyon, went on his honeymoon. Munyon married Miss Lois E. Irving and they went to Atlantic City, N. J. Emergency calls from Gibbstown cut short the wedding trip, and the bridegroom hurried home to relieve the famine.

Real Man of the World.

FIVE DEAD IN BIG FOUR WRECK

Express Train Hits Auto and Cars Are Derailed—All of Auto's Occupants Killed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Columbus, O., March 30.—Five persons are known to be killed and wards of twenty others were injured, several seriously, when a Big Four passenger train, carrying through passengers from New York and Boston to Cincinnati, struck an automobile at the North Broad crossing in the northern outskirts of Columbus today.

The engine and four cars, some of them sleepers, were overturned All of the cars left the track.

Among the dead are John Klee of Cleveland, fireman, and the man, woman and child riding in the automobile. The identity of the fifth person, a passenger, has not yet been established.

Efforts to establish the identity of the injured were made difficult through the fact that they were carried to different hospitals.

Among the injured are W. C. Green, Troy, N. Y., broken ribs and cuts.

Dorothy Coopock, a student at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., en route to her home in Greenville, Ohio, for the Easter vacation.

Andrew Green, Cleveland, engineer.

NEW 20-FT DRIFTS IN MICHIGAN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Petoskey, Mich., March 30.—Many northern Michigan towns and hamlets were reported short of food and fuel today as a result of the snow storm which began Monday and has shrouded the upper peninsula.

With train service hampered generally, and at a standstill at numerous points, fresh meat and other foods have failed to reach some communities since the big storm started.

Twenty foot snow drifts were reported from various sections of the northern peninsula and from all quarters of northern Michigan come reports of havoc wrought by high wind.

Harbor Springs has been without train service for more than three days. The Pennsylvania Railroad lines north of Cadillac were inactive yesterday and Pere Marquette Railroad trains were either stalled or late.

SHOCKED ENFORCER OF LAW

Man Who Placed His Arm Around His Fiancee in Theater Brought Instantly to Book.

Love in a picture theater in Newark is not a bed of roses, as Peter Catenacci, twenty-two years old, found the other night when he put his arm over the shoulder of his fiancee at the show in a movie theater.

John J. Hickey, special officer in the theater, suddenly saw the young couple in that affectionate position, and was horrified.

"Take your arm off that girl!" he shouted, so loudly that everyone in the house turned from the screen to the loving young couple.

"This girl is my fiancee, and I have my arm around her, because I love her," replied the unabashed Catenacci. "So long as she doesn't object I don't see what business it is of yours."

"It is against the law to make love in a theater," declared the special officer.

"I'm not making love to you," was Catenacci's rejoinder, "so why should you object?"

This piece of logic so infuriated the conscientious preserver of law and order in the theater that he arrested the young man. Acting Police Judge Guthrie freed Catenacci, declaring he felt incompetent to decide of what "making love" consists.—From a New York Letter in the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

SELLING EMPTY EGG SHELLS

How Chinese Boys Make Money When the Fish Are Known to Be in the Hatching Season.

Earning pocket-money by selling empty eggshells is how many Chinese boys add to their savings during the fish-hatching season.

Fish hatching in China is often conducted with the aid of a hen. First, the fish spawn is collected from the water. A quantity is placed in each eggshell, the open end of which is sealed with a special kind of wax. This done, the eggs are placed under sitting hens.

After the third or fourth day each egg is tested. If the hatching is complete the shells are broken, and the spawn is emptied into water and placed in the sun's powerful rays.

Soon the little fish are strong enough to be moved. Their next home is in water a few degrees colder, and this lowering of temperature goes on until they can stand the cold water of the lakes and streams.

The Chinese boy, by selling empty eggshells, earns more money during the hatching season than at any other time of the year.

Gave His Son Hard Jobs.

P. D. Armour, founder of Armour & Co., liked to pose as a rich man, it is said. He liked the feel of money and to give it away. He had 100 $1 bills put on his desk each morning, and before nightfall he usually managed to get rid of them.

His son, J. Ogden Armour, has said that he had no more choice in becoming the head of Armour & Co. than the prince of Wales in becoming the king of England.

"To get the right kind of men we begin early," J. Ogden Armour said recently. "We are more particular about hiring office boys than about anything else connected with the business. For the office boys of today will become our department managers tomorrow."

His father having antipathy for "soft" young men, put "J. O." in every hard job. He has served in every department both at the stock yards and in the office.

Eat Less, Live Longer.

The great majority of human ills arise from overeating and lack of exercise and fresh air, according to Jack Taylor, the "scholar gypsy," who reached New York on his way to southern California by way of the Atlantic coast states, Florida, Louisiana, Texas and Arizona, walking and camping all the way.

Mr. Taylor, who is sixty-nine years old, said that ten years ago he was a commercial traveler whom the physicians had given only a few months to live. He determined to revolutionize his habits, gathered together a camping outfit, and since that time has confined himself to a diet of raw eggs and corn meal, chocolate, raisins, rye bread and molasses. Since he began his new life he has walked 8,000 miles, lying in the open and camping under the stars. The average human being, he says, eats far more than he should.

WILLING BUYERS WHO CAN'T SPEND MONEY.

The Rev. W. W. Frey of Rhinebeck writes The Freeman asking what dealer in Kingston handles the Red Star Detroit Vapor Oil Stove. He says that several persons in that village are interested with a view of buying but have searched carefully the columns of The Freeman and their local weekly for an advertisement of the stove. The Freeman doesn't know who handles it.

She Kept It Going.

Emphasizing the virtue of persistence, Mrs. Kathleen Norris says, as quoted in the Boston Advertiser:

"When my husband was a magazine editor in 1910, a certain battered and travel-worn story, a novelette, came to his office and was immediately rejected. Two years later, when he was on another magazine, the story reappeared. It was unchanged, the same little child story of optimism and hope. This second magazine paid a small sum for it, and it was serialized."—From the Outlook.

KARNS TO PRESENT HIS CHARGES TOMORROW

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 30.—Secretary of War Weeks will order a thorough investigation of charges of Louis K. Karns, of Indianapolis, that his brother-in-law, Captain Edwin H. Randle of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, has been mistreated by Col. A. L. Conger, it was announced at the war department today.

Weeks has received a telegram from Karns asking for an appointment for tomorrow, when the charges will be formally presented.

Gould Has Relapse.

Referee John J. Donahue, representing the State Industrial Commission of the State Labor Board, will be in the court house in this city on Wednesday, April 4, commencing at 9 a. m., to hear claims for compensation of those injured while in employment.

Miss Jessica Brown, former "Follies" girl of New York, is soon to marry the Earl of Northesk, a Scottish peer, who is only 21 and an officer in the famous Coldstream Guards. Miss Brown is a native of Buffalo. The announcement of the engagement revealed for the first time that Miss Brown has divorced a handsome Spaniard, whom she married several years ago.

FATHER VAETH IS TRANSFERRED

From Sawkill To Congers Parish—The Rev. Fr. Cahill, Kingstonian, To Succeed Him.

The Rev. George J. Vaeth, who has served faithfully as pastor of St. Ann's Church at Sawkill for the past ten years, has been notified by Archbishop Hayes that he has been transferred to the pastorate of St Paul's Church at Congers, Rockland county, and he will leave Sawkill for his new charge next Wednesday, April fourth.

Father Vaeth has done much for Sawkill and the adjacent territory and always has been active in every movement for the betterment of the parish and the vicinity. Before going to St. Ann's Church ten years ago, he was for three years assistant to the Rev. Dr. Rummel, who was pastor of St. Peter's Church in this city. He has many friends in Kingston and throughout Ulster county who congratulate him on his enlarged field of usefulness but regret to have him leave Ulster county.

The Rev. Alexander A. Cahill will succeed Father Vaeth as pastor of St. Ann's Church, having been transferred from St. Angelamerel's Church, No. 921 Morris avenue, The Bronx, where he has been assistant pastor, and, is expected to reach Sawkill on Monday. Father Cahill is a graduate of Kingston Academy. He is a son of the late Detective Sergeant Michael J. Cahill of the Kingston police force and his mother, Mrs. Fannie A. Cahill, resides at No. 35 West O'Reilly street.

JUDGE CAUTIONS NEW CITIZENS

Justice Morschauser, Not a Prohibitionist, Praises Prohibition's Results and Tells Foreign Born to Obey All Laws.

Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser in administering the oath of allegiance to a group of foreign born residents who were naturalized recently at the city hall, Yonkers, cautioned the prospective citizens to have no mental reservations in their pledge to obey the laws. He had previously condemned those who violate the prohibition law, declaring that bootleggers were regarded with contempt because they were engaged in "a shameful business."

"This is a most important event in your lives and one that should not be taken thoughtlessly," he told the group. "You have obeyed the law up to this time, or you would not have been admitted to citizenship this morning. But it is vital that you should continue to obey the law. And this means every law. Some people think because they do not like a law they are at liberty to break it. This is not the real American ideal. You should obey every law, no matter whether it may be a popular law or not, and no matter what you may think about it personally.

"I refer particularly to the prohibition law. Those people who are engaged in the traffic in liquor today unlawfully are looked upon by all good citizens with shame, because they are engaged in a shameful business. Keep that in mind. It is well known that since prohibition went into effect we have been able to increase our savings in the savings banks. I am not here to make a prohibition speech. I am not a prohibitionist. But from 30 years' experience on the bench, in the lower and higher courts, I know how important it is to have men who keep sober.

"A man and a nation should keep sober. It is the first time in our history that we have kept sober, and it is a great thing. I know the time when prohibition was not in force that men would have gone out and celebrated an occasion like this by getting drunk. They can not do it today. It is a wonderful thing that they can not do it. It is a wonderful thing that they know that they have got to obey the law. It is important that as citizens you commence to set an example of obedience to the law.

"It is a wonderful thing too to be permitted to become citizens of a country like America. You have earned in five years the great privileges it took me 21 years to secure. The right to vote. I hope you appreciate that. I hope you will not think that because some of you are going on years that you are too old to learn to learn more of history and more of the things that make up an education. For my part I feel that I am not too old to learn. The more you study, the more you learn to better citizens you make.

"If there is any doubt in your minds as to your duty as to obeying our laws, do not accept the benefits of this great land of ours. There is no expectation in this world that I can not come to with your whole heart and soul and be an honest citizen. I take this oath. You should wipe out any of your old ideas that are not in accordance with our laws or our American ideals and determine to set an example of the highest type of American citizenship."

LOCAL DEATH RECORD

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons In This Vicinity.

John B. Churchwell, for four years a resident of Poughkeepsie, died at his home at 194 Winnikee avenue, Poughkeepsie, Wednesday afternoon. The deceased was 66 years of age and is survived by a wife and several children. He was employed as a carpenter in the rolling mill. Services and interment will be held at Kerhonkson, where Mr. Churchwell formerly lived. He is a member of the J. O. U. A. M. in Kerhonkson and of the Methodist Church.

After nearly a year's illness, Mrs. Artemas Shoemaker, formerly Miss Florence Smith, of Westkill, died at her home there on March 21st. Before her marriage, the deceased resided at Oliverea, and was a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She will be remembered as an earnest Christian, a kind neighbor and a friend to all who needed her assistance. The funeral was held at Westkill on Saturday. Interment at Prattsville. Mrs. Shoemaker was 59 years of age. A husband and son survive her.

Elizabeth Sullivan, widow of former policeman John W. Sullivan, died Thursday evening, at her late residence, following an illness of long duration. Mrs. Sullivan was a lifelong resident of this city and her many friends will lament her death. She is survived by three sons, Dennis, John and William and one daughter, Mrs. William Brady, all of this city. Funeral Monday morning, April 2, from the late residence at 8:45 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock with a solemn Mass of requiem for the repose of her soul. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Charles Fredd of Ellenville, who was in his 67th year, died Sunday evening in this city, where he had been a patient in a sanitarium for some time. The deceased is survived by three daughters, Mabel of Ellenville, Addie of Ridgewood, N. J., and Mrs. Frank Ter Bush of North Glen Side, Pa., one son, Louis at home, and three sisters, Mrs. W. C. Parsells of Ellenville, Mrs. William Frantz of Hokesville, L. I., and Mrs. Grant S. Allen of Emporium, Pa. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the Episcopal Church of which he was a member. Nesanog tribe of Red Men had charge of the services at the grave.

Mrs. Kate Russell, widow of James W. Russell, formerly well known in Ellenville, died at the home of her son, George E. Russell, in Poughkeepsie on Tuesday. Mrs. Russell was born and lived in Ellenville most of her life, but left there about a year ago and had since resided with her son. Deceased was the daughter of the late Benjamin T. Carpenter and Sally Ann Mance, his wife, and was born on the old Carpenter homestead, just north of the Fantinekill. The only children living are Benjamin C. of Ellenville, George of Poughkeepsie, James W. of Pennsylvania, and Jeanne of Poughkeepsie. Mrs. S. Edward Hampton of New York is a half sister and Mrs. Edward L. Wolf of Port Chester a cousin. Mrs. Russell was a member of the Methodist Church of Ellenville. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the home of her son, Benjamin C. Russell on Hurley avenue, Ellenville. Interment in Fantinekill Cemetery.

The remains of Thomas A. Clark, who died in New York city Wednesday, will be brought to this city Saturday afternoon and interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. His wife, who before marriage was Miss Anna Anderson, daughter of the late Matthew Anderson, was formerly a resident of this city and Mrs. Theresa Hime, Mrs. William Reynolds and Mrs. Anna Shuster Farrand are her aunts. The New York Evening Sun of Thursday says: Thomas A. Clark, for fourteen years a chief clerk in magistrate's court of the city and widely known to residents of Harlem, and Washington Heights, died Wednesday at his home, 600 West 188th street. He served last in the Washington Heights police court, but obtained an indefinite leave of absence in September, 1921, owing to high blood pressure. Yesterday noon he called on old associates of the court and in response to inquiries said he was not feeling very well. He went to his home where he died two hours later. When news of his death was received at the court this morning by Acting Chief Clerk Spencer, Magistrate McKinley called a five-minute recess in respect to Mr. Clark. Mr. Clark was known as the Beau Brummel of court clerks. He was extremely careful about his personal appearance and invariably wore a boutonniere. He was the first clerk of the night court being appointed in 1909 by Mayor George B. McClellan. After a few months there he was transferred to the Harlem court where he remained until July, 1921. He was then sent to the Washington Heights court. Mr. Clark was a member of several political organizations and at one time was secretary to State Senator James Frawley. Funeral at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The clerks of the Washington Heights court will attend in a body.

"AFFINITY" KILLED F. W. BURNHAM

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 30.—Learning that the man she loved was married and her unwillingness to give him up, caused Miss Helena Zeigler 26-year-old daughter of an exporter to mortally wound Frederick W. Burnham, wealthy contractor and then kill herself in his office in the Grand Central Terminal Building yesterday, police believe today. Burnham died early today in the hospital.

Friends of Burnham knew of an affair he had with a young woman, they told the police and had heard the handsome contractor express fear he would be killed.

Cat's Advantages.

A cat is unable to see in perfect darkness, but gets about more easily than other animals on account of its whiskers or feelers, and its surefootedness.

Appropriate Selection.

Having just finished his sermon on "Gossip and Slander," a minister in the suburbs announced the hymn, "I Love to Tell the Story."—Boston Transcript.

The Audubon Society.

The Audubon society is an organization formed for the protection of birds. It bears the name of the well-known American naturalist and bird lover, John James Audubon (1780-1851). The society has done much to prevent the hunting of birds for their plumage and for sport, and to create a sentiment against the wearing of birds and feathers on millinery. It is largely due to the efforts of Audubon societies that large tracts of ground have been set aside as bird reservations.

Age Not a Matter of Years.

Age counts for much less than it did a generation ago. People do not submit so readily to the growing-old process. They are realizing more and more that youth is not a physical affair at all. The new psychology, which is quietly, but deeply, affecting human thought in many directions, is teaching man that healthy labor, cheerful thinking, and useful interests in life go a long way towards preserving fitness and freshness of body and mind.

KLAN MET OPENLY IN SYRACUSE

Thousands Hear Address by Dr. Moore, National Lecturer—No Disorder.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 30.—The Ku Klux Klan today has held its first public meeting in Syracuse.

In spite of statements by the lessees of the Alhambra that no Klan conclave would be permitted there, over a thousand Syracusans poured into the hall last night and heard an address by Dr. John H. Moore of Pine Bluff, Ark., who revealed himself as a national lecturer for the K. K. K.

The audience was apparently a selected one, sympathetic to the principles set forth by the speaker, and the gathering was free from disorder.

As each man entered he was handed a black card upon which he was requested by Mr. Moore, during his speech, to write his name and address and the words "Yes" or "No." No explanation of the cryptic request was offered by the speaker.

Dr. Moore stated after the meeting he will return to Syracuse in two or three weeks to address a meeting to which the public will be invited. He speaks in Binghamton in his tour of the state.

MASSARO HELD ON NEW CHARGE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 30.—Peter Massaro, president of the Massaro Garage, Inc., of Fulton, already out on bail as a material witness in the auto stealing probe that has extended from New York to this city, today faces a second charge, that of criminally receiving stolen property. He was arrested at Fulton late last night by New York state troopers, arraigned and released on a new bond of $2,500, local police today were advised.

Massaro is said by New York police to have been arrested at Mineola, L. I., October 17, 1922, charged with stealing an automobile. He is now out on $5,000 bail in that case, according to Chief of Detectives Leahy.

At the time Massaro was arrested at Mineola, it was said, another man also was taken into custody. This man was Nicholas Pugliese of Brooklyn. An effort is being made to link him up with the Fulton automobile investigation.

Indian Ponies of Arab Descent.

The original Indian ponies were descendants from horses escaped from the earliest Spanish explorers and conquistadores, and those horses were descended in Spain from old Moorish stock which had its origin in Arabia. The animals were comparatively small, but possessed the Arab's unwearying energy and great carrying ability. It was that stock that became the Indian pony of the lands west of the Mississippi, the wild horse of the Far West, the smaller cayuse of the Oregon and Washington country. Naturally it degenerated in appearance through lack of special selection in the sires, but it retained its stamina and small feet to a remarkable degree.

Sapphires of Varied Tints.

The sapphire is a sister to the ruby, so to speak, for the parent of both is corundum, the pure varieties of which when red is the ruby and when blue is the sapphire. The shade of the latter varies. Some of the sapphires from Siam are so dark as to be almost black while a green tint is not unusual in Australian stones. They go from palest blue to deep indigo, but the most precious tint is cornflower-blue. Some of the crystals are clear with the blue in patches and some are of a yellow shade. The slightly cloudy ones sometimes form when cut a brilliant six-pointed star.

Woodpecker's Usefulness.

The wood-boring insect so destructive to forest trees, has one implacable enemy—the woodpecker. Better equipped than a telephone lineman for climbing; supported by a spurred tail; provided with hooked claws for clinging to the bark; hammer-headed, chisel-beaked, and armed with a tremendously long, strong, lance-pointed, barbed, extensile tongue, the woodpecker drills through the wood directly into the spot where the borer lies hidden, pushes in the tip of his barbed tongue, spears the victim and whips it quickly into his open beak.

Peat-Cutting in Ireland.

The peat-cutting industry is carried on very profitably in Ireland. Work usually begins at the bogs at the end of April. The skilled cutter, who has two men with low sideless wheelbarrows in attendance, uses a kind of spade, called a slane, the sods being cut up and removed to dry land. A few days later, when the sods have become a little less soggy, they are spread carefully all over the ground and left to dry. The next step is to pile the turf into a skillfully-made heap, which allows the wind to pass between the different pieces. Usually it is two or three months before the peats are ready for use as fuel. Peat is used in Ireland to such an extent that few people in the country districts ever burn coal.

A Narrow Escape.

An overhead tramway wire charged with electricity at a high voltage was responsible for an unusual accident to a motoring party on a busy street. A motor cyclist was driving his wife and child in a side-car through a large city when the wire broke and became entangled with the side-car, showering sparks on all sides as it struck the metal of the machine. A terrible death awaited the motorist if he had got off to attempt to remove the live wire, but he sat still, while people called out: "Sit still! Live wire!" and the rubber tires of the machine acting as insulators, prevented the current from passing through the steel work of the cycle. The dangerous wire was removed by engineers with rubber gloves, and the party proceeded unharmed.

The Church Cow.

A Presbyterian church in North Carolina has just bought a cow! The church carries on a large work in the "poor section" of the town, where many children need pure, fresh milk, but are not able to secure it. The church hires out the cow to poor families with small children at very reasonable rates. The cow gives about four gallons a day, which is sufficient for seven families. These families usually have enough small boys to herd the cow on the public commons and to see that each family gets its share. The experiment is so successful that the money secured for the hire of the cow is being laid aside for the purchase of another cow. —London Post.

Man as Newspaper.

When the average man picks up the newspaper he has scattered, he thinks he's a great help around the house.

Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, bride-to-be of the Duke of York, second son of the British monarchs, is shown receiving a bouquet at Inverleigh, Scotland, where, accompanied by her fiance, she witnessed the championship Rugby game in which the English team was defeated by Scotland. TWO GAMES AT K. H. S. TONIGHT

An exhibition of some real basketball is promised at the high school tonight. The Varsity team, who won quite a reputation by beating the strong team from N. Y. M. A. last week, will play that star quintet, known as the Triangles. The high school team will probably be made up of the following: Corrigan and Schmidt, forwards; Vogt, center, and McLane and Anderson guards. The lineup of the Triangles includes some of the old players of the local court, most of them former members of high school teams. From the regular Triangle team, there will be "Chet" Dolson, "Bob" Murray, Jack Robbins, Harold Johnson and "Cheese" Burger. In addition they will have two college players, John Schoonmaker, of Yale, and "Bud" Culloton, Fordham.

There will be a preliminary game between the high school seconds and the Ellenville Midgets. This is the play-off of the postponed game that was to have been played three weeks ago, when the Ellenville crowd got stuck half way to Kingston and the game had to be called off.

The first game will start at 7 o'clock. The Athletic Association ruled this morning that dancing would not take place after the games.

RESULTS IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Two league games were played on the "Y" alleys Thursday evening, when the Ulster County National Bank took two out of three from the Telephone Company, while the Fessenden team made a clean sweep on its match with the Schilling squad. With the victory gained, the Fessenden team jumped to third place in the league, while the other teams hold down the places they had before last night's match.

Merely a Rattlesnake.

Down along the Miami river in Florida the natives are not usually easily scared, but one night the conversation turned to spirit manifestations and one man spoke up: "Don't believe in them," he stated, "but I did once. One night I wakes up in my cabin and hears somethin' slooshin' across the floor. Spooks, I thinks. It was so creepylike. Scared? Well, I reckon. But I gets the nerve to crawl out of bed an' to light a match and then I'm cert'nly plumb ashamed of myself an' I ain't never believed in spirits since. Why, it weren't nothin' in the world except jest a big, common, mean, sneaky rattlesnake."

Night of Queer Happenings.

There is perhaps no night in the year which the popular imagination has stamped with a more peculiar character than that of the evening of October 31, known as All-Hallow'n evening, or Halloween. The idea with reference to Halloween is that it is the time when supernatural influences prevail. Spirits come from their hiding places and walk about. There is a remarkable uniformity in the fireside customs connected with this night all over England and America. Nuts and apples are everywhere in requisition. In north England the celebration at the time is called "Nut-Crack night."

Orchestra Conductors.

Although it is known that Lully died from accidentally hitting his foot with his baton, the first modern use of it in orchestral conducting was attributed to Spohr in 1820. Hitherto there had been a dual control of the orchestra. An eminent musician was at the pianoforte to "play with the orchestra at pleasure, which when it was heard," says Spohr, "had a very bad effect. The real conductor was the first violin, who gave the tempo, and now and then when the orchestra began to falter, gave the beat with the bow of his violin."

She Was Correct.

"I want a license for my dog," said the fussy dame. "Yes, madam," responded the clerk. "What name?" "Fido" said the fussy dame.

FREER HAS TYPICAL BUNGALOW AT TAMPA

The Tampa, Florida, Daily Times, contains an excellent photograph of a handsome new bungalow residence of Watson Freer, formerly of this city, at No. 2712 North A. street, Tampa. The bungalow is of frame and clapboard construction, with fireproof shingles and contains five rooms. It is an attractive looking building and is well set off by palms and shrubs. The Tampa Times says it is an excellent type of the bungalows which are being built now at Tampa. Mr. Freer left Kingston last winter and has since made his home at Tampa.

Good Jump Saves Life.

George Space of Goshen saved his life Wednesday when he leaped from his wagon as a fast Erie train roared over the Cross street crossing at Goshen. The horses, struck by the locomotive, were killed. A high wind was blowing and the aged man didn't hear the train until it was upon him. He leaped from the wagon, clearing the track. The horses were hurled to the other side.

American Pharmacists.

There is no evidence that a pharmacist, as now known, existed in America preceding the Revolution. The first American pharmacopoeia was issued in 1778 by William Brown at Lancaster, Pa. It was a little work of 32 pages for the use of the military hospital of Washington's army.
